APARTMENT COMING DOWN

Builders Faced With Two Laws —Those Of State And Gravity

Life has its ups and downs for builders Thornton Jenkins of San Anselmo and Ben Guglielmo of Corte Madera.

Their new project, almost up, must now come down.

It's a 12-unit apartment house at Lincoln and Myrtle avenues in San Rafael. It was started May 31 and was to be followed by another one of like size alongside.

By yesterday, the walls were up to the roof line. Tomorrow or next day, they'll start coming down again.

The reason: the State Division of Highways wants the land for widening of Highway 101.

Julius Selinger, attorney for Jenkins and Guglielmo, said today "somebody in the division of highways let this slip by." Ordinarily the state purchases land before new improvements are started, but the apartment project was well on its way when a condemnation suit was filed by the state on Aug. 1, he said.

Yet to be fought out in court is how much the state will have to pay for the uncompleted apartment house. Meantime, Jenkins and Guglielmo will start tearing it down.

Inch Of Rain In Some Areas

The sun was shining on Marin again today—part of the day at least—while clouds lingered from a storm yesterday which left more than an inch of rain in some sections of the county.

Most of the rain fell in and around the San Geronimo Valley. Between 8 a.m. yesterday and 8 a.m. today 1.43 inches was recorded at the Kent reservoir. A total 1.25 inches fell at Alpine reservoir near Fairfax, and .99 of an inch was reported at Woodacre.

Atop Mount Tamalpais, .98 of an inch of rain fell. Other readings in the county were .72 in Sausalito, .71 in the Chevy Chase district of Larkspur, .66 in Larkspur and Mill Valley, and .65 in San Anselmo and Novato.

San Rafael's total for the storm was .63, with .33 of an inch recorded since noon yesterday.

Fair weather, except for some fog in the valleys, is predicted by the Weather Bureau through tomorrow night. A possibility of rain in the extreme north is forecast for late in the week, but rain elsewhere is unlikely.

Sausalito Against Gas Tax But Wants Share

Sausalito City Council adopted a resolution last night declaring disapproval of the Collier-Unruh act providing for an added one-cent state gasoline tax, but the city wants the money just the same.

The council on Sept. 18 declared it did not wish to state "untruhthfully" that it agreed with the raise.

Mayor Paul Micou reported the council was commended in a letter from Michael Mitchell, county auditor-controller, who said he was in complete agreement and suggested a resolution be set forth giving the council's intent.

He also said that in Sacramento, state officials privately said the requirement that cities approve the act to receive the additional revenue was a "political gimmick" imposed by the governor's office.

"We don't want to let a deadline go by and lose gas tax funds," said Micou.

"I'm astonished no other community has seen the implications," said Councilman Michael Harris. "This could be extended to our sales tax apportionment. I think the act should be laughed out of existence rather than beaten to death with a club."

City Atty. Leland H. Jordan said County Counsel E. Warren Maguire asked for a memorandum setting forth legal arguments.

Councilman Carl W. Gabrielson retorted, "Just send him a copy of the Bill of Rights and Declaration of Independence."

Supervisors Vow Action On Richardson Bay Violations

Marin County will take legal action against George Kappas, or anyone else who violates laws or creates nuisances or health hazards in Richardson Bay, the county board of supervisors decided late yesterday.

Kappas owns land and tidelands from south of Richardson Bay Bridge to Sausalito.

The supervisors voted for legal action after a long and impassioned plea by attorney Hugh Allen, member of a committee appointed by the supervisors to form an assessment district for dredging Richardson Bay.

Allen pleaded with the board not to set up pierhead and bulkhead lines in the bay, as recommended by the Marin Conservation League. Allen and his committee has been trying for a year and a half to get property owners to form an assessment district.

"We have commitments from everyone except Bothin Realty," said Allen. "We feel we are almost there to get the dredging done. Don't chop us off at the pockets now."

Allen said most property owners are abiding by the county's interim ordinance against filling of Richardson Bay—except for Kappas.

VOTERS PASS $41-MILLION SCHOOL PLAN

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Voters in San Juan Unified School District gave their stamp of approval yesterday to 41 million dollars in bonds and loans to build 27 new schools.

Voters approved, 14,247 to 4,202, an 18 million dollar bond issue. The vote also authorized the district to borrow another 23 million dollars from the state.

Enrollment in the district of 48,000 is expected to double by 1970, but the 41-million-dollar program is expected to meet needs through that year.

In Yreka voters in the Yreka Union High School district yesterday rejected a proposed $672,468 bond issue, aimed largely at providing additional classrooms.

QUITE A DOG

Big Sam Is Really Beauregard

Big Sam isn't Big Sam at all: he's Beauregard. And he's quite a dog of the world.

Big Sam (or Beauregard) is a Labrador retriever that opened the door and wandered into a Sausalito School District board meeting Monday night, then climbed into Supt. Marcus F. Davis's car and accompanied him home. Davis named the dog "Big Sam."

Yesterday, Mrs. Blanton Hoover of 25 Rodeo Avenue, Sausalito, showed up at the superintendent's office to claim the dog.

The school board visit wasn't Beauregard's only escapade, she disclosed. He left home last Thursday, and spent the next few days hanging about Caruso's Bait and Tackle Shop. Fishing captain Henry Carlsen, thinking the dog was one belonging to Ham Sato, a gardener at the Ardilla Apartments, took it on his boat to San Mateo, where Sato lives. Wrong dog, said Sato, so Beauregard rode the boat back again.

Then Beauregard decided to attend a school board meeting.

Airline Merger Plan Postponed

NEW YORK (UPI) — The board of directors of Pan American World Airways and Trans World Airlines have voted to abandon temporarily plans to merge the two international carriers, it was announced today.

Termination of the merger agreement, initialed Dec. 20, 1962, came as no surprise in industry circles.

The Civil Aeronautics Board, which must approve all airlines mergers, previously had said it would not take up consideration of the carriers' petition until a complex legal contest for control of TWA is resolved. The case is expected to drag on for some time.

Hub Tax Passes; Bonds, Loan Out

Voters in the San Anselmo School District turned down a $700,000 bond issue and $500,000 state loan yesterday, and a 45-cent tax rate boost squeezed through by an edge so thin the absentee ballots may yet defeat it.

The tax measure requiring a simple majority passed by a scant 19 votes, 979 to 960, with 26 absentee ballots yet to be counted. It now has a 50.5 per cent majority.

Supt. Stephen Parodi said today he doubted the absentee count would reverse the passage of the tax boost. "It appears that it has passed," he said.

Passage would raise the district operating tax rate from $1.80 to $2.25 per $100 assessed valuation.

There was a rainy-day turnout of 30.2 per cent of the eligible voters, with 1,984 of a possible 6,559 casting ballots.

"The Sleepy Hollow School precinct put over the tax measure," Parodi said. The measure was slightly below the needed majority in the other four precincts, but Sleepy Hollow voters approved it by 297 to 113.

The bond and loan issues, slated to finance new construction, required a two-thirds favorable vote. They were more strongly favored than the tax hike, but fell far short of two-thirds.

The bond vote was 1,081 "yes" and 867 "no," a 55.4 majority. The loan vote was 1,047 "yes" and 879 "no," a 54.3 per cent majority.

Parodi said the school district board will consider the possibility of calling another bond issue election at its Oct. 22 meeting. The absentee ballots will be counted at that time.

Funds from the tax increase will be used for improving the instructional program and the salary schedule and undertaking maintenance and grounds work that has been limited, Parodi said.

For example, he said, a new

Old Novato Cemetery Park Eyed

The Novato City Council last night asked its city attorney to determine the steps necessary for acquisition of the old Novato Cemetery for a city park.

Councilmen discussed a proposal for the city to take over the cemetery, no longer used, from the corporation that owns it and convert the portion where there are no graves to a park. The portion with graves would be preserved as a memorial cemetery.

Besides the city attorney's study, councilmen asked that the parks and recreation commission study feasibility of such use of the cemetery and of buying vacant land to north and south of it to increase the park area.

In addition, the council received its first offer of a gift for the park. The Veterans of Foreign Wars offered to give the city an old cannon to be placed in the memorial cemetery.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy signed into law today a bill by Rep. John F. Shelley (D-San Francisco), creating a presidential commission to recommend future use of Alcatraz Island, now abandoned as a federal prison.

Seaman Warned Of Speed

A 40-year-old merchant seaman from Santa Rosa was killed early today as his sports car skidded on the west side of Highway 101 north of the Waldo Tunnel and plunged down a bank.

Robert Allen Giacomelli, who was stopped for speeding in San Rafael Sunday, was found in his car a 5 a.m. today, sitting on his seat belts. He was taken to Marin General Hospital but was dead on arrival at 5:15 a.m.

Giacomelli suffered internal injuries and a punctured right lung. Death was due to internal bleeding, Marin County Coroner Frank J. Keaton said.

26TH THIS YEAR

Giacomelli's death was Marin's 26th traffic fatality this year. Last year at this time 21 had died on streets and highways in the county.

California Highway Patrolmen Angelo Corvino and Thomas Foley spotted the car down the bank about 50 feet north of the tunnel while they were on routine patrol. A trail of skid marks led off the rain-slick pavement.

The car had chewed through 207 feet of mud and shrubs in the divider strip and then veered sharply to the right down a 51-foot bank.

The top was down and the car was resting on its wheels. The driver was still in his seat.

CHASE ON HIGHWAY

Foley reported Giacomelli probably would have survived the crash if he had been wearing his seat belt.

Giacomelli, a member of the Sailors Union of the Pacific, was driving to work on his Matson Navigation Co. ship at a San Francisco pier.

He was cited at 4:45 a.m. last Sunday after a chase from Terra Linda over the Puerto Suello Hill at approximately 85 miles an hour. Sgt. William Roberts of the highway patrol, who finally stopped Giacomelli, cited him to appear in Marin Municipal Court Oct. 28.

Giacomelli is survived by his mother, Mrs. Emma Giacomelli; a son David Allen Giacomelli, and two sisters, Anna and Gloria, all of Santa Rosa, and

Nine Aides To Sheriff Retiring

Nine employees of the Marin County Sheriff's Office will retire at the end of this month.

Several of the men said yesterday they were surprised to learn they were retiring so soon, but Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos said they shouldn't have been.

Mountanos announced the retirements after a ruling by County Counsel E. Warren McGuire that the new county retirement program requires all sheriff's officers over 60 years old to leave Nov. 1.

Leaving will be the chief of the civil division, the chief jailer, two sergeants, one of whom is chief court bailiff, two other bailiffs, a patrol deputy and two matrons.

Mountanos announced written and oral examinations will be held soon for assistant chief jailer and assistant chief of the civil division. Applications will also be taken for the job of matron, which requires only an oral test.

Other positions will be filled by promotion or from the reserve force, the sheriff explained.

Desk Sgt. Edward Mythaler had earlier announced his intention to retire Oct. 31. The other eight who will end their service on that date, announced yesterday are:

Floyd Middagh, chief of the civil division; Sgt. Vernon E. Ward, in charge of bailiffs; Frank Christ, chief jailer; Jack Bones and Jack Agnew, bailiffs; Deputy Fred A. Hooper, and matrons Gladys (Mom) McCarthy and Dora Farley.

Middagh is the officer with the longest service with the department, starting in 1939. Mountanos plans to advance Middagh's assistant, Leland Brown, to his post.

Christ will be replaced as

U.N. Outlaw Of Orbiting Arms Gains

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A resolution outlawing the orbiting of nuclear weapons in outer space was approved unanimously today by the General Assembly's main political committee. (See also story, page 2.)

The proposal—sponsored by the United States, the Soviet Union and 15 other countries—now goes to the 111-nation assembly itself where approval is expected tomorrow.

While the U.N. action is not legally binding, it is regarded as a moral obligation since the United States and the Soviet Union drafted the plan and voted for it.

Actually it is in the form of an appeal to all countries to refrain from placing in orbit objects carrying nuclear weapons or any weapons of mass destruction, or from installing such weapons in outer space in any manner.

Korea Democratic, Army Vote Close

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Two candidates offering a choice between democratic or military government traded the lead today in the closest presidential election in South Korea's history.

With 81 per cent of an estimated 10.8 million ballots counted, military strongman Chung Mee Park had 3,716,878 votes and his leading civilian opponent, former President Yun Po-Sun, had 3,704,750

Yun, 67, candidate of the Civil Rule party and slashing critic of Park's military regime, went into hiding as the ballots were counted. He obviously feared Park's military backers would arrest him.

Britain-Tokyo Flight: 8½ Hours

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An American supersonic B-58 bomber landed in Britain today after flying nonstop from Tokyo in the record time of eight hours, 35 minutes, President John F. Kennedy announced.

The previous record for such a flight was more than twice the new mark—17 hours and 42 minutes, established in 1955 by a British jet.

Today's flight covered 8,028 miles at an average speed of 938 statute miles an hour.

Purpose of the flight was to demonstrate the capability of a B-58 Strategic Air Command bomber with its regular SAC crew of three men.

Russians Hold Up British Convoy

BERLIN (AP)—A British military convoy held on the Berlin Autobahn by the Russians today moved westward, a British spokesman announced.

The British spokesman said the convoy continued its interrupted journey "on our terms."

That meant the British refused the Soviet demand for the British soldiers to dismount to be counted.

U.S. Personal Income Hits Record

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Longer hours and greater employment helped push personal income in the nation to a record rate during September the government reported today.

The Commerce Department said income, figured on an annual rate basis, reached 466.5 billion dollars last month—1.5 billion dollars above August.

The department said wages and salaries accounted for nearly all of the August-to-September rise. Part of it reflected increases under the new federal minimum wage law which went into effect Sept. 1.

New York Mirror Sold To News

NEW YORK (UPI)—The morning tabloid New York Mirror, with the nation's second largest daily circulation, put out its last edition today ending almost 40 years of publication.

In an announcement last night the Hearst Corp., publisher of the Mirror, said that the "name, goodwill and other intangible and physical assets of the Mirron have been sold to the New York News."

News publisher F. M. Flynn said, "Knowing the adverse economic pressures confronting all New York newspapers, we can understand the reasons for its decision."

Flynn did not disclose the purchase price for the Mirror.

The brief Hearst Corp. announcement placed part of the blame for the paper's shutdown on last winter's 114-day New York City newspaper strike.

Termination pay "in excess of 3.5 million dollars" will be paid to some 1,500 to 1,600 Mirror employees.

Governor Returns

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown says pro-Castro demonstrators who threw gravel at his car in Argentina "didn't represent the Argentine feeling toward the United States by any means."

The California governor returned from the visit yesterday and said the gravel-tossing incident occurred while he was in Argentina for the inauguration of President Arturo U. Illia.

While his car was stopped, Brown said, pro-Castroites spotted the American flag on the front fender, shook their fists and shouted, "Castro si, Yankee no."

Baby Sitter Stabbed

BELLFLOWER (UPI) — A 51-year-old baby sitter was found stabbed to death today, and one of the three children she was caring for missing.

It was the second death by stabbing in the area in an eight-hour period.

The body of Mrs. Winiford Anders of Lakewood was found by Carl Tait when he returned home from work.

Sheriff's deputies said the woman appeared to have been stabbed several times.

Danny Tait, 13, a seventh grade student at South Junior High in Towney, was not in the house, and deputies put out an alert for the youth.

Last night, Mrs. Elizabeth Buss, 63, was fatally stabbed. A tenant of the building, William Cotter, 24, later turned himself in.

Jilted Prince Sues

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A jilted Spanish prince wants the $10,000 engagement ring he gave San Francisco heiress Dolly Fritz four years ago.

Prince Gonzalo de Borbon said in his superior court suit filed yesterday that his former fiancee, who since married and is now Mrs. Dolly Fritz McMasters, has refused to return the diamond ring and her attitude has been "based on malice . . . and upon a willful desire to vex, harass and annoy" the prince.

In addition to the ring, the prince asked $100,000 in punitive damages.

Council's Progress

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Ecumenical Council's progressive wing appeared today to have achieved a dominant influence at the Roman Catholic conclave following this week's votes to modernize the Mass and the sacraments.

A member of the Vatican Curia, the church's central governing body, described the votes as "a victory for the progressives" — the modern-minded element among the 2,500 church fathers.

He also said the voting showed the conflict and misunderstanding between progressives and conservatives had eased.

Developers Facing Tough New Ad Rules

16 Regulations Control False Claims On Land

By BILL BOYARSKY

SACRAMENTO (AP)— Sixteen rules go into effect tomorrow aimed at preventing land developers from making advertising promises they don't intend to keep.

The regulations, issued by Real Estate Commission-Milton S. Gordon, implement 1963 laws designed to control subdividers who use misleading advertising to sell remote desert land in California, Oregon, Nevada and Arizona.

Gordon said if the Real Estate Division spots an ad with a suspected false claim, investigators will check. If they find the advertisement is misleading, the developer will be ordered to withdraw it.

DIFFERENT APPROACH

In 1961, the Real Estate Division tried a different approach. It sought passage of a bill that would have given the commissioner power to regulate ads before they were published.

News media opposed this on the grounds that it amounted to prior censorship. The bill was defeated.

Ben Martin, general manager of the California Newspaper Publishers Assn., said he was "concerned" about the new rules, adding "the majority of them are not needed."

The rules will be in addition to existing regulations that requires subdividers to tell the purchaser everything about the land he is buying, including hazardous conditions.

PUBLIC REPORT

This is done in a public report, which is approved by the real estate commissioner. The buyer must read it or sign a waiver acknowledging that he didn't read it.

Thus in the case of someone buying a house near an airport runway, the subdivider would be required to say in the public report that there is noise and some hazard from the airplanes.

Similar requirements apply to condominiums and other community type developments.

Under Gordon's new regulations, developers cannot:

Say there are roads, streets, sewers, drainage or other utilities if none have been completed.

Advertise country clubs, swimming pools or other improvements that have not been built.

Falsely promise that financing is available for home construction.

Call a plot of unimproved land a "development" or "home sites" unless the ad explains that no improvements have been built.

Use illustrations that incorrectly portray the property.

Refer to the water supply in superlatives.

Say utility services are "available."

Use a company name falsely implying it is a research organization.

Developers must also be specific about distances, using actual road miles in talking about any facility located more than a mile from the subdivision.

Ban On Orbiting Nuclear Weapons Seems Assured

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Full support from the United States and the Soviet Union assured overwhelming U.N. approval today of a ban on orbiting nuclear weapons in space.

The 111-nation political committee called a special meeting to rush through a resolution sponsored by the United States, the Soviet Union and 15 other countries, outlawing nuclear-armed satellites. Committee adoption makes General Assembly passage a formality.

The resolution, first tangible cold war breakthrough since the limited nuclear testban treaty, stems from an agreement announced Oct. 3 after talks here by Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home.

The United States and the Soviet Union have conceded that the advantage of orbiting nuclear weapons in space is more psychological than military.

Introduction of the resolution highlighted the opening of the committee's disarmament debate yesterday.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson told the committee his country hopes to include underground nuclear tests in a comprehensive treaty provided that adequate verification and on-site inspection is guaranteed. He challenged the Russians to spell out what scientific machinery they will accept to assure such verification.

Kennedy Urges Whittled Down Civil Rights Bill

Attorney General Feels Milder Law Might Pass

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Kennedy administration seems willing to risk a few political brickbats—even from its own side—to make its civil rights program palatable to Congress.

The broadened version turned out by a House judiciary subcommittee must have seemed like a nightmare to administration civil rights strategists equipped with the latest soundings of congressional sentiment.

Thus Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy urged the full commitment yesterday to whittle the bill down to the milder proportions recommended four months ago by President John F. Kennedy.

This, the attorney general feels, was a strong, effective bill. It could, deftly handled, get the votes to make it a law by the end of the year.

Swollen with the subcommittee's innovations, it might scare away the most dedicated civil rights supporters, Kennedy said.

His views reportedly were bitterly received by a few liberal Democrats who thought they knew Robert Kennedy well enough to think he'd be delighted by an all-out civil rights package that would widen his authority in virtually every field of American business and public life.

But these powers, Kennedy let it be known, would be more than he or any man in the United States should want to possess. They could, he believed, lead eventually to a national police force.

It has been four months since the House committee got the bill and it still hasn't turned it loose. It must journey through the rules committee to the House floor, to a Senate committee, to the Senate floor, through conference and then through compromise before it has run its course.

RETIRE

chief jailer by his assistant, Newall Snyder.

"We are fortunate to have such dedicated people employed by the sheriff's office," Mountanos said. "They have done a great service to the County of Marin in the protection of life and property."

The sheriff said Deputy Edward McKamey would be promoted to sergeant to replace Mythaler, but said he has not yet made a decision on Ward's replacement.

Mountanos said the new retirement plan, approved 3-2 last month by the board of supervisors, which requires all men in safety activities to retire at age 60, will have a major effect on recruiting.

No applications for the department will be taken in the future from men more than 35 years old, the sheriff announced.

McGuire held there could be no option by the men on whether they would be covered under the safety officer provisions of the plan, and that retirement would be mandatory within 30 days of institution of the plan.

Some of the men had apparently believed they might have a two-year moratorium on retirement, although Mountanos said yesterday he had understood from the start the plan would require the nine men to leave.

Middaugh, who is 62 and lives at 1908 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, is chairman of the county retirement board, which fought hard for the new retirement plan. He said he had not been certain retirements would be forced, but was satisfied with the plan.

He came to the department as chief of the division, having been a captain in the San Rafael Police Department. He was born in Peru, Ind., and was graduated from San Rafael Military Academy.

Christ, 61, of 405 Pine Street, Mill Valley, started work for the department in 1950 as resident deputy in the Mill Valley area. At that time deputies worked part time as firemen.

Ward, 69, of 329 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, had planned to leave Oct. 31 anyway, because his 70th birthday was approaching, the compulsory retirement age under the old plan. Ward joined the department in 1949.

Mythaler has already left, using up his vacation time fishing in Sierra County.

Agnew, 64, of 146 C Street, San Rafael, was hired in 1958. Bones, 66, of 66 Billou Street, San Rafael, joined in 1945. Hooper, 60, of 222 Los Angeles Avenue, San Anselmo, was hired in 1949.

Mrs. McCarthy, 67, of 1 West End Avenue, San Rafael, was hired in 1950, and Mrs. Farley, 60, of 1480 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, joined in 1956.

San Rafael School Bids To Be Called

The San Rafael Board of Education last night voted to call for bids on the addition of 18 classrooms at Terra Linda High School at 7:30 p.m., Nov. 12.

Architect Carl F. Gromme estimated the two-story addition will cost $350,000.

The board also canvassed ballots from last Tuesday's election in which two elementary district bond issues were defeated and a boost of 50 cents in the maximum operating tax for the high school district was approved.

In addition they counted 54 absentee ballots, not enough to change the outcome. Final official vote totals with the absentee votes were:

Tax increase, 3136 to 1959; $3,300,000 in bonds for construction, 2,335 to 1,398; $670,000 for multi-purpose rooms, 2,214 to 1494. The bonds failed to get the two-thirds majority. The tax measure needed only a simple majority.

Patrol Officials Discounting Idea Of Bridge Leap

California Highway Patrol officials are discounting, for the time being, the idea that William A. Brandt of Daly City jumped off the Golden Gate Bridge.

Brandt was scheduled to appear yesterday in Marin County Superior Court to change his plea to guilty on a charge of possession of marijuana. On Monday two suicide notes from Brandt were found in a tennis shoe on the bridge.

The Coast Guard searched both sides of the channel under the bridge but found no body yesterday.

"Daly City police feel he is not the type to intentionally injure himself," commented Highway Patrol Capt. Theodore F. Parnow. "It would appear likely he did not commit suicide on the Golden Gate Bridge and merely took this means to drop out of sight and avoid criminal prosecution."

Five Other County Employees Retiring

Five county employees outside the sheriff's office will retire by Nov. 1, Treasurer-Tax Collector Stanley J. Fontez, disclosed today.

As county treasurer, Fontez is administrator of the Marin County Retirement Assn.

Capt. A. J. Giambastiani, 62, of the county fire department retired Oct. 1 with 22 years of county service. He gets a retirement pay of $324.70.

Peter (Art) Newton, 58, in charge of the county garage, retired Oct. 1 with 13 years service and retirement pay of $175.60.

Dante Pattarga, 68, senior account clerk in the auditor's office, will quit on Nov. 1. He will get $153.12 retirement.

Elizabeth Parker, 58, a clerk at the former Marin County Hospital and Farm, retires as of Nov. 1 on $125.63 per month, after 16 years service. She actually quit work last May but took deferred retirement until November to come under the county's new retirement plan.

Most of the retirees will get some benefits from social security in addition to county retirement pay.

Oldest in age and service is Frank Giubbini, 70, of Inverness, road foreman for the county department of public works and an employee of the county for 42 years, who retired Oct. 1.

BAY

motion of Peter H. Behr, voted to refer to the district attorney "any violations of law by Kappas in Richardson Bay."

The board also extended for another year the interim ordinance which would expire next month.

The board also asked County Counsel E. Warren McGuire to draw up an ordinance controlling building or filling on Richardson Bay in the area south of what is known as Rosedale Canal (just south of Richardson Bridge). Most of Kappas's holdings are in that area.

At the suggestion of Chairman William D. Fusselman, the supervisors will meet informally at 10:30 a.m. on Oct. 31 to see what progress has been made on the assessment district.

The Marin Conservation League has passed a resolution asking that pierhead and bulkhead lines be established to preserve Richardson Bay as it is.

Allen called this unfeasible. "You can't tax underwater land at $7,500 per acre and expect them to hold it forever . . . If you have people interested in coming in and spending money, the thing to do is not to throw obstacles in the way. The thing to do is compromise," he argued.

E. Elmore Hutchinson, engineer representing Bothin Realty, assured the supervisors Bothin is not trying to block the assessment district, but merely wants to make sure it is left with some land to develop if it joins the district.

FATAL

a brother, Bert Giacomelli of Windsor, Sonoma County.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Keaton's Mortuary San Rafael.

Meanwhile funeral services have been set at 1 p.m. tomorrow for Robert Raymond Ahola, 41, of 303 Cascade Drive, Fairfax, killed Monday night in a car-train crash in Berkeley.

The services will be conducted at Ellis-Olson Mortuary in Albany by Rev. Walter Werronen of the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church of Berkeley and Jerald H. Traeger of the First Baptist Church of San Anselmo.

Taken Off Case

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Police abruptly took "Miss Bubbles," a member of the canine corps, off a car theft case Monday night. They said she tracked down the investigating officers instead of the suspect.

Lost Simian Not Popular Monkey

San Rafael's traffic-stopping spider monkey has been identified and claimed, but not with much enthusiasm.

The monkey is Saffron, a habitual inmate of the Marin County Humane Society's keep at 402 Third Street, San Rafael. Mel Morse, executive director of the society, said Saffron undid the lock of her cage and climbed through a ventilator in the roof to freedom.

Officer John A. Loane of the San Rafael police department spent several frustrating hours Monday evening in persuit of the high swinging monkey before catching it in the coat of his uniform. The simian stopped traffic in downtown San Rafael as spectators got out of their cars to watch it swing from tree to tree and power pole to power pole with Loane following below.

Morse said today that Saffron has been in and out of the humane society's care for about a year. New owners take her but soon become disenchanted and Saffron either gets loose and has to be captured or is brought back.

Humane society workers, called into the chase Monday, figured the fugitive was their missing Saffron. But while they were getting a tranquilizer gun, the monkey was captured and they did not find out until later where it was taken.

Saffron has become so adept at breaking out of places that Morse has decided it must stay at the Marin Pet Hospital, third Street and Grand Avenue, until a new owner can be found.

"We have several requests for monkeys," Morse said, "but few people keep their enthusiasm after the newness wears off. We would like to find someone who really knows something about monkeys to take her."

roof will be constructed at Wade Thomas School, estimated to cost $5,000.

The bond and loan funds would have been used to build a new school at Sunny Hills and expand Hidden Valley School.

Total tax levy of the San Anselmo School District this year is $2.61 per $100 assessed valuation. This includes operating tax, retirement, loan and bond repayment, etc. If the other items are unchanged next year, the tax rate could rise to $3.06 under the authorized apparently approved yesterday.

RUDOLPH A. PETERSON
Chief exec for bank

New Bank Of America Head Named

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Rudolph A. Peterson, a Swedish-born banker who helped pioneer installment credit, will be the new president of the Bank of America—the world's largest commercial bank.

Peterson, 58, was named yesterday to succeed S. Clark Beise as chief executive officer of the bank. Beise, 65, is retiring Nov. 1 but will be chairman of the bank's executive committee.

840 BRANCHES

The Bank of America has more than 12 billion dollars in deposits and 14 billion dollars in resources. Most of its more than 840 branches are located in California but it has offices throughout the world.

Peterson spent 10 earlier years with the bank of America, transferred to Transamerica Corp. for nine years, joined the Bank of Hawaii in 1955 and became its president a year later, then came back to the Bank of America Oct. 1, 1961. Since then he had been vice chairman of the board.

BORN IN SWEDEN

The new president came to California from Sweden when he was 2 and grew up at Hilmar, a Swedish farming community near Turlock. He was graduated from the University of California in 1925 and joined Bank of America in 1936.

He pioneered the bank's installment credit operations and became vice president with state-wide responsibility in lending. Transamerica was a holding company affiliate of Bank of America when Peterson joined it.

In 1955, when the government ordered Transamerica to separate from most of its banking interests, Peterson went to Hawaii.

JOINED IN 1936

Beise also joined Bank of America in 1936, but as a vice president following his work as a national bank examiner. He became executive vice president in 1945 and president in 1954.

Branches and assets each grew by more than 50 per cent during his term as president, and he pioneered banking automation.

Beise will also remain a director. His predecessor as executive committee chairman, former president Carl F. Wente, will become honorary chairman of the bank's board of directors.

Tattooing Craze

NOTTINGHAM, England (UPI) —Nottingham school officials said today they are fighting a tattooing craze in which teenage girls decorate their friends' arms with sewing needles and shoe polish.

French Give Up Base At Bizerte

BIZERTE, Tunisia (UPI)—The French yesterday gave up without ceremony their "atom bomb-proof" naval-air base of Bizerte, two years after they won a bitter four-day battle for its possession.

A total of 1,321 persons were killed, 1,300 of them Tunisians, in the July, 1961, fighting that broke out after Tunisians blockaded the strategic French base.

The last troops of the French garrison left the strategic Mediterranean base without fanfare. Hundreds of Tunisians watched silently as the troops moved out.

The Amish sect's 60,000 members are scattered in more than 20 states from Iowa to Florida. Some have moved to Canada and Mexico.

Los Ranchitos Fued Set Off By Garage

A Los Ranchitos resident built his garage too close to the property line, and his neighbors are all set to help him move it back. He doesn't want that kind of help.

The fued, which has just about split the Los Ranchitos Improvement Assn. into two camps, was brought to light (and to some heat) before the county board of supervisors yesterday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bonomolo of 23 Knoll Way, Los Ranchitos, sent attorney Richard V. Bettini to push their contention that they did not realize there was a 10-foot setback requirement until the garage was 80 per cent completed.

A neighbor, Ted Jalo of 25 Knoll Way, also brought an attorney, Harold Fulkerson. Jalo said the principle of adhering to setback lines is so important to him and his neighbors that they are willing to make a community project of donating material and labor to lop off one end of Bonomolo's garage and add it on to the other end.

"We will even have coffee and cake for the workers," said Jalo.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker called for a week's postponement before any decision. "I'd like to take a look at the property," he said.

San Rafael High Rehearsing Play

Rehearsals are under way this week for San Rafael High School's production of "Inherit the Wind," a dramatization of lawyer Clarence Darrow's defense in the 1925 Scopes trial.

Tom Edwards and Rick Raznikov have major roles in the play, which will feature a large cast of students. Lew Levinson is director, and his student assistants are Kathi Callon and Beverly Galley.

The play is scheduled to open in early December.

Folk Singer Is Charged With Bronze Statue Theft

Mill Valley folk singer Kellery Powers was charged with grand theft yesterday in Denver, Colo., for taking a small bronze statue, valued between $3,000 and $5,000.

Miss Powers, 24, was appearing in a Denver club when the statue, "Head," by Jacques Lipchitz, was reported missing from the Denver Art Museum last July 27.

The blonde, six-foot singer lives at 81 Sycamore Street. She explained last month in a San Francisco court, prior to an extradition hearing, that she took the 30-pound statue as a prank and gave it to the California Academy of Sciences in San Francisco.

Miss Powers, listed as Judith Ann Powers on information filed by the district attorney in Denver, was freed on $1,000 bail.

San Rafael Class 'C' Cagers Beat Redwood

San Rafael High School's Class C basketball team downed the Redwood small frys yesterday 34-23 in the Redwood gym.

Richard Schau led the scorers with 13 points for San Rafael. High scorer for Redwood was Andre Horn with 12.

Demonstration On Fencing Is Slated

Fencing skills will be demonstrated at a joint meeting of the Marin Reserve Officers Assn. and its auxiliary tomorrow at 7 p.m. in the Hamilton Air Force Base Officers Club.

Dr. William O'Brien, Olympic fencing instructor, will present a team demonstration of fencing at the dinner meeting. The two organizations will also discuss plans for the dinner and military ball to be given Nov. 9 at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club.

Reed School Vote Nearing —Interest Appears High

By CORENA GREEN

Reed School District, which has never failed in its bid for more bond and tax monies, took voter pulse readings last night and found some of them beating wildly over next Tuesday's tax election.

A lot of people had a lot to say.

A panel sponsored by the Reed District Parent-Teacher Club carefully outlined the fiscal problem.

Trustee David D. Ring estimated district income for 1964-65 at $860,000 and expenses at $1,060,000. The $200,000 deficit can be made up by raising the operating tax limit $1, from $2.25 to $3.25 per $100 assessed valuation, he said.

This, he said, would insure a 25-1 pupil-teacher ratio, good salaries, and a full program.

He cited a 30 per cent drop in state aid and 4 per cent inflationary trend as additional reasons why more tax money is needed.

"We can balance it at the present $2.25 if we increase pupil-teacher ratio to 32-1," he added.

Another panelist, Henry J. Broderick, commended the school board for being far sighted and not waiting for a crisis before acting. Also on the panel were Berton C. Jacobson, John McChesney. Moderator was Edward P. Ward.

Spectator Robert Ingram recommended realigning district boundaries to exclude the new apartments near Bel Aire. Jacobson estimated about $120,000 in taxes would come to the district from the apart-

Mrs. Chester C. Vargas declared Belvedere pays $900 per child in taxes — "enough to send them to the Country Day School." She expressed outrage at a budgeted $5,000 for telephone. "How far can you pluck the goose that lays the golden egg?" she demanded.

Fred C. Hannahs charged that trustees have been misled by figures.

As a minor example, he said the district is basing a population projection on one-half pupil per living unit in new apartments. He said there are 33 pupils from 77 units already occupied. "This is not .5 but closer to .43," he insisted.

"The premises and the facts are faulty and I am prepared to prove it," he declared.

Supt. Edward C. Pino immediately challenged what he called innuendos. He said the statistics used were from county and state records. "They have not been juggled in the Reed office," he insisted.

Hannahs recommended hiring a business manager if the tax increase passes.

Mrs. Edward Parnell also challenged statistics. She said the rate of attendance growth as compared to increase in assessed value per pupil is irrelevant and meaningless. "It's like comparing apples and oranges. I am happy to support the election for the right reason but find meaningless statistical comparisons offensive," she declared.

Another spectator, after persistent efforts to learn the precise number of pupils and teachers, was told there are 1,432 pupils and 64 eeachers but was warned that merely dividing would not tell the story. Superintendent Pino said the junior high departmentalization program and double sessions in the kindergarten made the ratio hard to determine. Broderick said the citizens committee had spent a whole session on just this problem.

To a question from Mrs. M. W. Neal as to how many interested spectators attended board meetings, Ring said, "Not many and the least well attended are budget sessions."

A spectator requested that trustee Leo Souza, who is not supporting the tax raise, be asked to speak. Souza declined, saying his views had already been expressed.

The New York Metropolitan Opera House was built in 1883. The first performance featured Gounod's "Faust."

Sausalito Taxi Rates May Be Hiked 10 Cents

Sausalito Taxi Service rates may be raised to 60 cents for the first three-fifths of a mile and 80 cents for the first mile. Under the present zonal system, the shortest trip is 50 cents.

The Sausalito City Council discussed taxi rates last night and Mayor Paul Micou appointed Councilman Jan Paul Dyk to consult on an appropriate schedule with City Mgr. Charles A. Brown. It was pointed out that a second firm, Yellow Cab, has not made known its views. A public hearing will be held on the proposed increase.

The council voted to accept a portion of George Lane as part of the city street system after subdivision map approval.

It agreed to permit the Cote d'Azur Apartments at 200 South Street to proceed with work on condition that the canopy at the main lobby entrance be no higher than the existing garage roof and a fence be cut down two and one-half feet. Councilmen also said lighting of the apartment house doorway will be subject to council approval, as will future encroachments.

The council introduced an amendment to the garbage collection ordinance in which Livermore Disposal Service Inc., the city's collector, would raise its bond from $1,000 to $5,000, increase insurance policies, now $100,000 and $300,000, to $500,000 and $1,000,000. Collection fees to customers are expected to remain the same for about a year, said Lewis Figone, firm owner.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

1. Requested the fire department to examine property at 43 Cloud View Road as to possible fire hazards from brush, trees and leaves, on request of Mrs. Helen W. Bromfield, 41 Cloud View Road.
2. Asked Norman Wohlschlaeger, supervisor of public works, to investigate road repairs on Toyon Lane.
3. Filed a letter from Leo Souza of Tiburon who asked for consideration of a Marin County Transportation system.
4. Said "We think it wise to maintain the bay model for use in tests relating to results of filling in San Francisco Bay."
5. Approved a continued use permit to United Sand and Gravel Co. for storage of sand and gravel in Marinship until June 30, 1964.
6. Heard from Wohlschlaeger the city crews hope to build a new tennis court at Richardson Bay School early next spring.
7. Accepted the deed to Cloud View Park from William M. Roth and to property on Harrison Avenue from John M. Davis.
8. Asked the recreation commission to work "full tilt" to acquire a Spring Street area playground.
9. Requested City Atty. Leland H. Jordan to prepare a resolution accepting plan lines for Rodeo Avenue.
10. Approved warrants totaling $34,894.

Almost 13 million cubic feet of water flow over Niagara Falls every minute, 94 per cent of which passes over the Horseshoe Falls on the Canadian side of the Niagara River.

25 Sweaters Are Stolen From Home In Sausalito

Twenty-five sample sweaters were reported taken from the home of a Sausalito sweater representative over the past weekend, Sausalito police said today.

Meanwhile investigation is continuing, said Sgt. David Cooper, acting chief, in an attempt to identify items believed stolen in recent Marin burglaries.

Earle M. Turo reported to police Monday that, on returning home from the weekend, he found his home at 575 Sausalito Boulevard had been entered and $900 in belongings were missing.

A television set was stolen from the living room, and two suits, a sport coat, a vest, a pair of pants and the 25 sample sweaters taken from other parts of the home. He estimated total loss at $900.

Turo is a representative for Darlene Knitwear Inc., a San Francisco women's sweater firm.

Cooper said that law enforcement officers from Belvedere, Mill Valley, Larkspur, San Francisco and the county sheriff's office had, with burglary victims, identified items taken from four burglaries. No new burglaries were uncovered in the check.

Much of the loot was that found at the home of Mill Valley jazz trumpeter Byron L. Berry, 49, of 15 Melrose Avenue. Berry was arrested by Sausalito police Oct. 7 and is in county jail on one charge of burglary. He was scheduled to enter a plea today.

PG&E Office Theft: $35.20

Someone who evidently knew where the Pacific Gas and Electrictric Co keeps some of its money, broke into the company's San Rafael maintenance shop at Lindaro and Second streets early yesterday and escaped with $35.20.

Officer L. J. Ahern of San Rafael police said the burglar pried a door on the Lindaro Street side of the building, entered the supervisor's office through an unlocked door and pried open a locked drawer to take a metal cash box.

Ahern said it was the only locked drawer in the office's three desks. Other drawers were not disturbed.

The box, broken open, was left outside the fence — along with 49 pennies.

Civic Center's News Racks Called Eyesores

A "hideous array" of newspaper racks and other "minor discordan notes" at the Marin County Civic Center were pointed up yesterday by Lawrence Livingston Jr. of Sausalito in a letter to the county board of supervisors.

Livingston, a professional planner, decried the eyesores that detract from the "magnificent" architecture designed by Frank Lloyd Wright.

County officials quickly explained that a more appropriate newspaper rack has been designed, and that other "discordant notes" have been or are being remedied.

"The design for a single newspaper rack is done," said Public Works Director Donald R. Frost. "It's just a matter of authorization now." Frost said he would present the design next week for the supervisors to inspect.

While on the subject, the supervisors also lit into a wooden bench which sits to the side of the main entrance. Said Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker: "That bench might have been designed by Frank Lloyd Wright's grandfather."

"We have been trying to get properly designed benches, but it takes a lot of time," said Asst. Administrator John F. Barrows, "so we resurrected that bench form the county farm and had it painted over. It's strictly temporary."

"How about the door mats?" asked Supervisor Chairman William D. Fusselman. "They ought to be Taliesen red." Frost said the black, non-skid mats were placed at the entrance because rain made the floor slippery, and black was the only color available.

Narcotics Pamphlet Being Distributed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — State officials are distributing a new pamphlet on narcotics and drugs to warn Californians of the dangers of addiction.

Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk, who failed to convince the 1963 legislature that the state needs new laws controlling the use of dangerous drugs, said he hoped the pamphlet will "be a major tool in producing an intelligent awareness" of the problem.

Bay Area Crusade Hits 34.4 Per Cent Of Its Goal

The people of the Bay Area have contributed $3,927,391 to the 1963 United Bay Area Crusade—34.4 per cent of its $11,407,000 goal—with the drive barely two weeks old, campaign chairman John R. Beckett announced today.

Marin County was second in donations by percentages, trailing San Francisco by only 1 per cent, said Marin Crusade chairman Charles J. Francis.

Marin residents so far have contributed $36,664 for 24 per cent of their county goal, Francis said. Marin's goal is $155,000. San Francisco is first with 25 per cent of its goal achieved and $595,792 donated.

Following were Alameda County with $431,130 for 23 per cent of its goal, San Mateo County with $90,891 (14 per cent), and Contra Costa County, $30,510 (11 per cent).

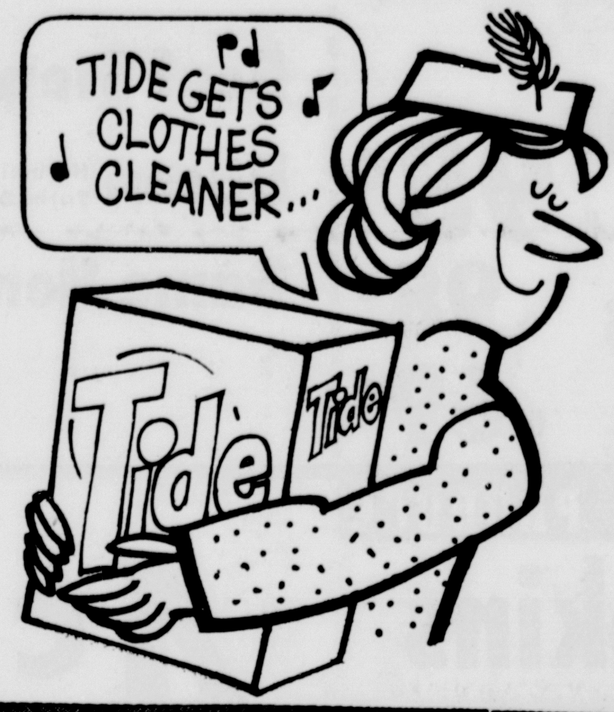

Highest per cent reached to date by a single Crusade division was achieved by the Bay Area Military Division from uniformed and civilian personnel in all five counties, including Hamilton Air Force Base and other Marin installations. These men and women contributed $200,781 for 68 per cent of their goal.

The United States Marines installed the first dial telephone system in the Western Hemisphere during their 19-year occupation of Haiti which ended in 1934.

Man Arrested As Fake Lab Technician

A Fairfax man was arrested last night by sheriff's deputies at Marin General Hospital and charged with posing as a laboratory technician.

Deputy Boyd Burnham, who made the arrest, said Siedel Harden, 36, of 192 Tamalpais Road, admitted posing as Myrno Hall James when applying for his job, saying he found the license of a Myrna Hall James in a parking lot and altered the first name.

He was hired by the hospital on May 15 and, according to a pathologist in the laboratory, has been doing satisfactory work on the night shift.

Harden said he is also employed as a laboratory technician at the Fort Miley Veterans Hospital in San Francisco. He said the federal government does not require a state license for its employees.

Harden claimed he took the examination for the state license a month ago and is awaiting results. He was freed on $1,100 bail, to appear in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow.

Passenger Hurt As Auto Hits Pole On Highway

Shu Kou Ying, 40, of San Francisco, suffered rib injuries when the northbound station wagon in which he rode hit a utility pole beside Highway 101 at the north end of Waldo Tunnel and rolled over about 1:30 p.m. yesterday.

He was treated at Marin General Hospital and transferred in fair condition to Chinese Hospital, San Francisco.

California Highway Patrolman K. W. Beadleston reported Yook Thom Lee, 44, of San Francisco, cook for the Chinese Kitchen in Larkspur, was driving the restaurant's car. He said that as he applied the brakes, the car skidded on the rain-wet road. The driver was only bruised.

Novato Children Lose A.F. Jet Fighter Plane

The F-86 fighter plane "City of Novato," which stood in a corner of the Marion Street School grounds at Seventh Street and Grant Avenue, was taken back to Hamilton Air Force Base.

"It had become too expensive to maintain and the insurance risk was too great on it," said Eugene De Brecht, Novato School District assistant superintendent of schools in charge of business. He stated that it was not designed as a piece of playground equipment.

The plane was installed as a display on Washington's Birthday in 1960. The Air Force furnished the hull of the plane; the city paid the $500 necessary to get it mounted on blocks; the school district maintained it.

The plane needed 300 to 600 man hours of work for repair of damage done by the children, de Brecht said.

Mayor M. E. Silva asked Col. William S. Harrell, commander of the 78th Fighter Wing, to reclaim the plane for the Air Force.

So yesterday the old plane was loaded on a truck and taken back to Hamilton where, according to officials, it will be used in fire fighting drills.

Ambulance For Novato Wrecked While En Route

An ambulance scheduled to begin service yesterday in Novato was wrecked en route, but a borrowed one should be in service by the weekend, said Michael Manick, owner.

The ambulance, en-route to Novato, was parked in San Francisco Friday when it was hit by a car making a U turn, Manick reported. Damage to the ambulance was estimated at $2,000, he said.

Manick, owner of the California Ambulance Service, said he has made arrangements to get another ambulance on the job by the weekend. It will be stationed at Novato Fire Station No. 2.

'BOOST FOR MORALE'

College Council Decides To Organize Its Spirit

If you're gonna have school spirit, you gotta coordinate it.

So decided the College of Marin Student Executive Council yesterday in creating a new position: "spirit coordinator."

The council appointed Nels Larson of San Anselmo to the new position. His job, it decreed, will be to provide rooters' buses and coordinate the activities of yell leaders and song leaders for football games, along with other activities "to boost student morale."

David Campbell of Inverness, council president, announced 18 other students will accompany him to a North Bay conference of the California Junior College Student Government Assn. Saturday at Napa Junior College. They'll go by college bus, not coordinated by Larson.

Camera Lens, Watch Stolen From Home

A camera lens and a man's wrist watch were stolen from the home of George Quinn Jr. in Sausalito while Quinn and his wife were vacationing in Hawaii in September, Police Sgt. David Cooper, acting chief, reported today.

Police learned of the break-in Sept. 18 when Quinn's neighbor, Mrs. Eleanor Cruickshank of 194 San Carlos Avenue, noticed a door open and a window broken at the Quinn home at 182 San Carlos. At that time police could not ascertain if anything had been taken as the Quinns were still away.

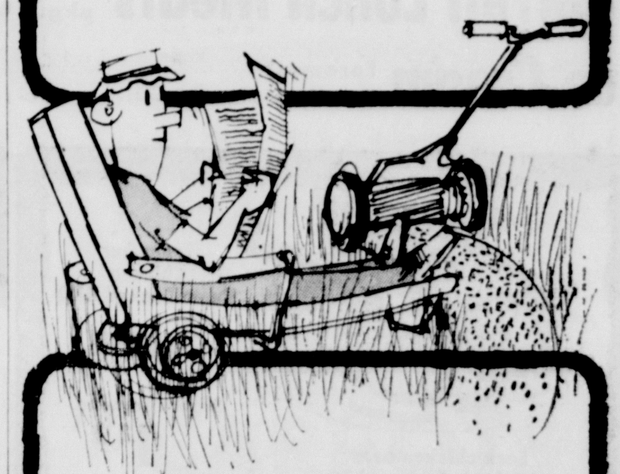

Man Pleads Innocent To Forgery Charges

Martin Brigmon, 35, of Los Angeles, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to the charge of forging two checks of $54 from the Meadow Hunt and Trail Club, Bolinas, and passing them at the Food Villa Market, Fairfax.

Judge Harold J. Haley set next Wednesday for the preliminary hearing for Brigmon, who is a parolee. He was arrested Sunday by Fairfax police.

Plans For Bar, Restaurant Near Airport Are Approved

Plans for a cocktail lounge and dining facilities in an old building near the Marin County Airport north of Novato won approval of the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

Peter Lind, who operates Pete's Pier 15 in San Rafael, asked a permit to convert an old granary building on the entrance road to the airport. It is in an industrial zone.

The supervisors also approved construction of additional classrooms and a girls' gymnasium at Marin Catholic High School in Greenbrae.

The supervisors also:

1. Rejected a $61,000 bid by P and Z Construction Co. for slide conrection work on White's Hill and decided to re-advertise at the end of the rainy season. Asst. Public Works Director Arthur T. Knutson called the bid price excessive.
2. Approved an agreement with Northwestern Pacific Railroad to build a grade crossing to serve the Marin County Airport north of Novato. The work will be done by NWP, and the county will pay $2,435.
3. Approved a three-page policy statement to govern special assessment district proceedings, drawn up by County Counsel E. Warren McGuire.
4. Granted a permit for about 35 pole houses on Park Circle and Buckelew Street, Marin City. These are the last of the single family relocation units in Marin City.
5. Approved the eight-acre Lawson subdivision adjacent to Dillon's Beach.
6. Set for Nov. 19 public hearing on rezoning of San Geronimo Valley.
7. Approved the Paradise Beach County Park pier fishing rules recommended by the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission.

Fatal Crash Might Claim More Lives

Man Cited For Hit-Run Driving In San Rafael

Howard Eugene Welch, 21, of 404 San Francisco Boulevard, San Anselmo, was cited for hit-run driving by San Rafael police early today after an assist from another driver and a Fairfax police officer.

Donald Edward Hobart of Santa Rosa, was northbound in the 1600 block of Lincoln Avenue when a car sped up behind him to pass. Hobart had to pull over because there was also a southbound car.

Helen Marie Michaels, 48 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia, in the southbound car had to pull over to avoid a head-on collision. The passing car hit her left front fender and headlight and then hit the front fender of Hobart's car.

Hobart chased the hit-run car as far as Hamilton Air Force Base, but was unable to catch him. He called in a description of the car to San Rafael police who broadcast the information.

Officer Dee Carver of Fairfax spotted the suspected car near the Marin Town and Country Club at 2:36 a.m., 18 minutes after the crash.

Olympic National Park in Washington is the only U.S. park with both snow-capped mountains and ocean beaches.

Fairfax Meetings Slated On Education Program

A series of public meetings to look at the education program in Fairfax schools will be held next year by the Fairfax School District trustees.

The board agreed last night to call special meetings each month, January through April, to examine "present and long-range plans" for the teaching of mathematics, English, reading, and social studies. Dates will be announced later, Supt. Homer L. Sisk said.

Trustees adopted a resolution calling the previously announced Jan. 14 election on $175,000 in bonds for classroom construction.

Report cards for first, second and third grades will be issued in November after parent-teacher conferences have been arranged, trustees agreed.

Trustees authorized installation of a hot chocolate and soup vending machine in Central School, as offered by the Central School Parent-Teacher Assn.

Child's Heart Surgery Put Off

Six-year-old Kim Chapin of Santa Venetia, scheduled to undergo open heart surgery, will have to wait a little longer.

Kim was all set to enter Children's Hospital in San Francisco yesterday, but the visit was postponed because she has an ear infection.

Mrs. Bronce Chapin, her mother, of 22 Adrian Way, said that Kim may make the trip to the hospital Saturday. She is scheduled to have surgery to correct a cardiac malfunction that she has had since birth.

Look At Bay From Jet Is Planned

Rep. John F. Shelley (D-San Francisco) has invited San Rafael city councilmen and other city officials of the Bay Area to take a jet ride with him tomorrow to look at San Francisco Bay.

Shelley, a candidate for mayor of San Francisco, has been asked to testify before the Assembly interim committee on natural resources, planning and public works in San Francisco Tuesday and Wednesday on the problem of filling bay tidelands.

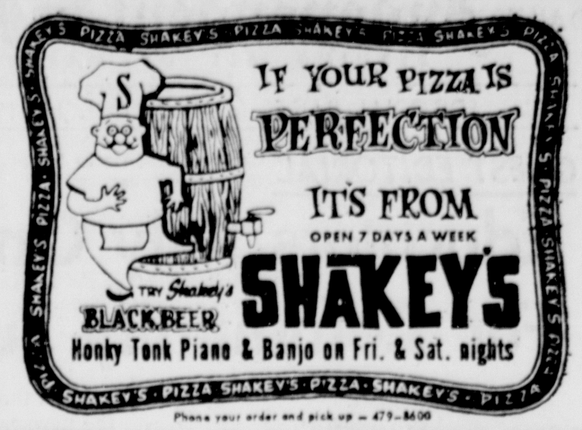

Before doing this he wants to talk with city officials and take the aerial survey. The group will leave San Francisco International Airport on a jet supplied by Pacific Southwest Airways. After the tour they will have lunch at the Hilton Inn at the airport.

City Councilmen Fred Jensen and L. B. Bud Baar are planning to take the flight. Because Jensen is chairman of the San Rafael Sanitation District board, the board's regular meeting will be postponed from tomorrow to 9:30 a.m. Friday.

Side-View Mirrors Stolen From 2 Autos

A sneaky side-view sidewinder struck in San Rafael early yesterday morning, swiping the side mirrors from two parked autos.

One of the victims, David Lyle Crockett of San Anselmo told police that both side mirrors, worth $8 each, were taken from his car parked on Second Street between A and B streets. Verna Lucille Leaird of 69 Crestwood Drive, San Rafael, said one mirror was removed from her car while it was parked in front of her home sometime after 2 a.m. yesterday.

Educators Rely On Press For Community Support

National Newspaper Week
Guest Editorial

By CHESTER G. CARLISLE
District Superintendent, Tamalpais Union High School District

"All I know is what I read in the newspapers" was a famous saying of Will Rogers. I don't know if he was completely serious when he said this, and I doubt he was advocating the abolition of public education.

But he was making an important point: Newspapers are a powerful and essential force in public education. I believe that this is even more true today than when Will Rogers spoke.

Maybe Will started all of us thinking. It is certainly true that almost all persons in the educational profession are more aware these days of the importance of the community newspaper. And it seems to me that newspapers are more aware of the importance of schools as well.

An increased awareness of the explosion of knowledge, along with the increased awareness of the importance for survival of educated and informed citizens, have helped both schools and newspapers realize their common cause.

Certainly, in Marin County, we see much evidence of this common awareness on the part of both the schools and the newspapers, I am always impressed by the amount of information I find about the schools in the Independent-Journal.

Obviously, this is a commentary on the community as well. We are fortunate to live in a community which the census reports show to be comprised of highly educated citizens, and practical experience shows to be both sophisticated and interested in public education. The newspaper then, becomes the important link between the schools and its patrons.

And certainly, in Marin County, no one can minimize the importance of this role. We have a rapidly expanding population which produces a need for repeated bond elections. We have an incessant demand for improved quality which causes the need for rate increase elections.

These conditions produce a continual strain on the communication channels. School administrators and teachers would have found their task almost impossible without the continuing support of their community newspaper.

A community may be proud when its newspaper is not only a source, but also a support to the cause, of public enlightenment.

Evasive Answer To A Straight Question

Our county auditor-controller Mike Mitchell is a pretty smooth article and as a rule he gets what he goes after. But it seems Sacramento really threw him when he tried last week to get a little light on a matter of interest to the Sausalito City Council.

In Sausalito's citadel of rugged individualism they didn't go along, it will be recalled, with any theory that to get road money out of that new extra cent-per-gallon gasoline tax you must first make profound salaam to the eastward and declare yourself in favor of the tax.

So Mike asked what about it—could you omit the flattery, and maybe the perjury, and still get road money out of the new tax?

Our understanding is that all Mike got was an embarrassed runaround, explicable on the ground that the great Governor Brown was responsible for this novel departure. But since Marin's county counsel has put a blunt question to the attorney-general, maybe that will bring a straight answer.

Those Swearing To Preserve Constitution Might Read It

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

THE WHIMSY now is advanced that former President Eisenhower has asked former Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell whether he, Ike, is eligible to be elected vice president of the United States.

It is not suggested that Ike is much interested. But it is stated that he did ask.

Harry S. Truman got into the act in response to questions in New York. HST said that in his opinion a former president of the United States could seek the vice presidency but that it was a legal matter for the attorney general to decide.

ALL OF THIS is disturbing to your correspondent's peace of mind to say nothing of the shattering impact of this silly business on the bright little minds of students who, about now, are contemplating the elements of a course called "Civics."

Civics relates to citizenship, to civil affairs or, more generally, to the art and science of government.

These students probably will know by now that General Ike has sent Herb Brownell on a child's goose chase and that HST was talking through his hat.

The shattering nature of all of this is that the students may suspect that these two statesmen never had read the Constitution which both twice swore to preserve, protect and defend. Or, if they did read it, they didn't understand it.

IT IS POSSIBLE that a lawyer could torture out of the language of the constitution some kind of rule that a two-term president of the United States thereafter could be nominated and elected vice president.

A lawyer might be able to do that—a Philadelphia lawyer, maybe, or a Harvard.

But I'll lay you a dollar to a dime that Herb Brownell did not learn that kind of law at the Yale Law School.

If Ike and HST had read the Constitution they could not have missed the concluding sentence of Article 12, proposed by Congress Dec. 12, 1803 and proclaimed adopted Sept. 25, 1804.

That sentence reads: "But no person constitutionally ineligible to the office of president shall be eligible to that of vice president of the United States."

Plain enough?

THIS SENTENCE must be understood in the light of Article 22, effective Feb. 26, 1951, which forebade any person thereafter to be elected president more than twice. The third term amendment.

It follows then, that General Ike is constitutionally ineligible to the office of president and, therefore, is not eligible for election as vice president.

Of course Ike would dress up a Stop - Kennedy ticket, even in second place, but the whole idea is balmy and should be filed in the loony bin.

However, we might get a new constitutional amendment requiring a candidate for president to prove he has read the U. S. Constitution before he is put in charge of preserving, protecting and defending same.

'What We Know That Isn't So'

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The philosophy of the enclosed editorial should be highly complimented and awarded industry acknowledgement. ("Fine Sensational Yarn Mostly Hot Air," on rumor that a child of normal intelligence had been falsely kept in a retarded class.)

My father always said, "God forgive us for what we do not know and spare us from what we know that isn't so."

Your writer has done what always should be done to bring ignorance, hysteria and notoriety-craving into proper perspective despite popularity of misinformation and rumor.

Congratulations on putting out such a good page by intelligent diligent men.

Alarm Not Backed By The Facts

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The recent case of a young boy who remained in a class for retarded children, although not retarded, points up the need for parent and citizen participation in local school operations.

It would appear, from the information available, that this boy will now be three years behind in his education, a serious handicap. Obviously this child and any others in similar circumstances require an accelerated program of teaching, probably on an individual basis. In my opinion, the people of Sausalito and the Sausalito School Board should provide facilities to accomplish such a program.

Apparently, the county school system is unwilling or unable to evaluate the children in the "special class" from Sausalito in less than six months. This will increase the time lost from regular education for those children who should not be in the class.

This situation brings many questions to mind concerning the Marin County special classes. Are the children tested before being placed in such classes? Are testing and evaluation done periodically while in such classes? Are children grouped according to the results of testing and/or behavior and aptitudes?

The pride and trust that we have in our schools is severely shaken by such events.

PATRICIA R. TODD
San Rafael

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The foregoing is a good example of how far one can get off base by following an erroneous lead. The boy in question went into a special class for retarded children only after psychological tests showed him to be retarded; he is now considered just over the I.Q. borderline and thus qualified for reinstatement in regular classes. Periodical re-evaluations of those in special classes are made. Additional facts on thise whole situation may be obtained from the office of the county superintendent of schools which stands solidly behind the Sausalito schools on the case in point.)

True Education Is The Need

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Enclosed please find a clipping from the Wall Street Journal.

I would appreciate it if you could find space in your paper to reprint this article as it points the way that the Marin County schools seem to be going and should be a warning to us before it is too late.

Reporting Factual And Discreet

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Recently there was some disturbance at our Tamalpais High School originating from race differences. Your paper reported this incident in a most factual and discreet way; and we want to take this opportunity to thank you for the type of coverage this was given by you.

We feel that the newspapers can be of tremendous help in eliminating race difference as a problem in the United States.

The Independent-Journal ran an article the week of Sept. 23 in regard to the art classes being offered at the Terra Linda Recreation Center.

The response was very good and we have, as a result of that article, students from Mill Valley to Novato participating in the adult and children's classes. The article was accurate and well written.

A young salesman, who had wed what he described as "the most beautiful girl in the history of Milwaukee," returned from his honeymoon in a state of utter disillusionment. "The trouble began," he admittedly sadly, "when she came to me crying the morning after the wedding and told me she had swallowed her glass eye. I told her I never realized she had a glass eye, then asked her, 'How come you swallowed it, anyhow?' She answered, "I guess I never should have put it in the same glass with my teeth.' "

Five or six decades ago, the Creoles residing in the country between Memphis and Houston, introduced a new form of musical show in which a principal character was always named "Mr. Jasbo." This was a corruption of the French "Chasse - beau," which meant a beau, or dandy, who took the wind out of the sails of other beaux. "Jasbo" in time was shortened further, to the word Jazz, and thus the era of Jazz was ushered in.

Profumo Was A Mere Tool, Used In The Soviet Spy Tactics

LONDON—There is a lesson to be learned from the Profumo - Christine Keeler scandal which goes beyond politics and public morals.

It reaches to the heart of governmental security.

The tendency has been to appraise this affair as though it stemmed primarily from the weakness of character of the resigned Minister of War, John D. Profumo.

The truth is, as now pointed up in the Denning Report, that this was a deliberate Soviet espionage tactic and that Profumo's weakness was the tool which Moscow used.

FIX THIS CAST of characters in mind:

Capt. Eugene Ivanov, Russian spy working out of the Soviet Embassy in London.

Dr. Stephen Ward, identified by Lord Denning as an active Communist sympathizer and willing agent of Ivanov. Ward made his way into the company of influential Britons by obtaining girls to entertain at parties.

Mr. Profumo, the Secretary of State for War, who fell into this net.

And what was Capt. Ivanov really up to? Were he and Dr. Ward just out to provide fun for Profumo and others? Or was the motivation far more significant?

THE ANSWER is brought into the open for the first time by Lord Denning, who in these two paragraphs puts the whole Profumo thing into perspective:

"It has been suggested to me that Ivanov filled a new role in Soviet espionage technique. It was to divide the United Kingdom from the United States by these devious means. If ministers or prominent people can be placed in compromising situations, or made the subject of damaging rumor, or the security service can be made to appear incompetent, it may well weaken the confidence of the United States in our integrity and reliability.

"So a man like Capt. Ivanov may take every opportunity of getting to know ministers or prominent people, not so much to obtain information from them (though this would be a useful by-product)—but so as to work toward destroying confidence. If this were the object of Capt. Ivanov with Stephen Ward as his tool, he succeeded only too well."

IN LINE with the Lord Denning thesis, George Wigg, a Member of Parliament who first brought some of the security issues of the Profumo case to public attention, makes this interesting comment in the London Telegraph:

"I think that the dangers of the new Russian tactics are greater now than they have ever been. We all remember the fable of the March wind. It blew and blew and everybody pulled their overcoats more closely around them.

"Then the May sunshine came out and everybody relaxed, off came coats and ties and waistcoats. If we behave in the same way, we shall bitterly regret it."

The failure of the Macmillan government to come to grips with the Profumo matter was in many ways parallel to the failure of the Churchill and Attlee governments to come to grips with the treachery of Guy Burgess, who died recently in Moscow, and Donald MacLean.

The parallel between the Burgess and MacLean and the Profumo cases is that British internal security never effectively investigated either case because their superiors did not will them to do so.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

President Would Tie His Wagon To Soaring Glenn

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON— President Kennedy is quietly maneuvering to hitch his political wagon to the soaring moon-bound star of astronaut John Glenn, Jr.

The president and his brother, Att. Gen. Robert Kennery, have privately assured Glenn of a "bright future" if he sticks with their administration and forgoes a million dollar job offer in private industry.

The Kennedy brothers have discussed a number of very attractive job "possibilities" with Glenn, including replacing James Webb as administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and/or running for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Ohio next year.

WHILE NO commitments have been made by either the Kennedys or Glenn, the backstage discussions are still going on, with the final decision depending on a number of unresolved factors.

The toughest problem facing the President is how to replace Webb or sidetrack Senator Stephen Young, (D-O), without touching off a major explosion within his own party.

According to reliable administration sources, the idea of replacing Webb with Colonel Glenn is the president's. Greatly disturbed by the adverse reaction in Congress to his proposal for a joint U. S.-Soviet moon program, the president is said to feel it will take a space hero like Glenn to make this venture politically popular before next year's presidential election.

HE REPORTEDLY believes that Glenn, as head of NASA, could overcome this opposition by devoting most of his time to "selling" the moon shot and the multi-billion dollar space program to Congress and the public with personal appearances and speeches.

Under this plan, Dr. Hugh L. Dryden, deputy administrator, and Dr. George Mueller, new director of the manned space flight program, would actually run NASA.

Robert Kennedy favors Glenn's entrance into politics as a Democratic senatorial candidate in Ohio.

With the popular astronaut on the ticket, the president's chief political adviser stresses that the president would stand a fighting chance to carry Ohio.

He also feels that the political fallout from the national press coverage Glenn would receive during the campaign would help the President throughout the nation.

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL has a poll on his desk showing that astronaut Glenn is a lot more popular in Ohio than the president.

As in the case of replacing Webb, there is one big stumbling block. Senator Young, the present Democratic officeholder, is bent on seeking re-election. He has turned a deaf ear to all offers from the White House to pull out in favor of Glenn. One of the offers was a choice ambassadorship.

Before he began his private negotiations with the Kennedys, Colonel Glenn told his fellow astronauts that he would stay on if he could become chief pilot in the first two-man U. S. space flight.

THIS FLIGHT, known as Project Gemini, is scheduled for October 1964, just one month before the presidential election. It involves orbiting around the earth for several weeks two astronauts in the same space vehicle.

Forty-year-old Glenn won worldwide acclaim on Feb. 20, 1962 when he safely orbited the earth three times in his Mercury space capsule.

Even Birds And Bees Joining In The Mill Valley Madness

EVERYBODY has been madder'n a hornet around Mill Valley lately. What's more, the hornets have been mad too.

Whether a hornet can become madder'n another hornet is one of these points the law calls "moot."

But the hornets aren't mute. They have a lot to say about that newfangled humming-bird feeder out in the Gould garden.

WHEN WE FIRST started feeding humming-birds, out of a simple bottle-and-pipette gadget mailed by a Shanghai friend who got lost in Los Angeles and never found his way clear, it turned out we were feeding more hornets than humming-birds.

Most of the time nobody was having a drag off the end of the pipe. The birds and the bees were disagreeing, and having dog-fights in the air.

Made no more sense then than what's happening in downtown Mill Valley now.

Every week or two the Goulds sally down their hill to spend a buck or two, and on one of these daring forays we discovered that all this trouble had been looked after by modern science.

SOME GENIUS figured it out that if you put the pink humming-bird booze into a long glass container, screwed this onto a larger closed dish with holes around its sides, and up-ended the whole affair, the fluid would come down a way but only for a way.

Most of it would stay up in the cylinder due to vacuum above. The fluid in the dish would stand about three-eighths of an inch, more or less, under the level of the port-holes through which humming-birds could stick their beaks and tongues. The stuff above would drop gradually as the birds lowered the level below.

Bees just weren't supposed to be in the party at all. They could stick their snoots through the port-holes maybe but they couldn't reach the fluid.

WELL, OUR HORNETS turned out to be a mighty stern stubborn breed.

Maybe they can't get at the bird-booze but they ain't a-gonna give up easy.

They still keep coming. They fool around the feeder, and press up against the port-holes, and swear in hornet language something awful.

When a humming-bird comes along for a handout, do you think those consarned flying hoodlums fall back and let their betters take a turn? Not a chance!

They just transfer their bad nature to the rightful owners of the restaurant and everybody chases everybody around the old live oak.

WHAT'S MORE, we've noticed that in case the hornets are off making nuisances of themselves somewhere else, half the time a humming-bird no sooner gets to work on the bottle than another swoops down and they both go off into the blue yonder.

Sometimes Wife Agnes and I plumb lose patience with these dumb friends.

They don't belong in our garden, they belong in local politics.

Even out on the bird feeder by the breakfast window things never seem very well organized. That feeder is for the smaller birds, the wrens and such with towhees the biggest permitted.

Bluejays get special crackers out under the oak at the cocktail hour and by now they should know this. But every once in a while Agnes has to shoo a jay off the feeding platform.

LATELY EVEN SHE has been a little bemused. A couple of fine handsome Stellar jays have been dropping by. With their jaunty topknots they seem to hypnotize Agnes who lets them feed undisturbed.

"Look at that crew-cut effect, what a wonderful flat-top head!" she says.

Luckily for all of us, Agnes has a weakness for things that don't look as though they had good sense.

Wives Brainwashing Hubbies In Effort To Make 'Em Dance

WASHINGTON — If the House Un-American Activities Committee has nothing to do, we suggest they investigate a subversive movement going on in the United States to get husbands to dance.

Under such innocent-sounding names as "The Waltz Club," "The Dancing Class," and "Friends of the Cha Cha," wives are getting their husbands to cell meetings all over the country and brainwashing them into moving around the floor to the accompaniment of the local dance orchestras.

Washington, where you can't vote anyway, has several of these secret, tong-like societies and we think somebody should put a stop to it before it gets out of hand.

WE ATTENDED a meeting last week of a group which calls itself "The Waltz Club." Besides being a cover for the CIA, the Waltz Club has sworn itself to perpetuating the waltz, the fox trot, and other Left Wing dances.

Under the guise of good fellowship, innocent husbands are taken away from their television sets and couches, made to put on black ties and tuxedos, and forced to stay up until three and four in the morning.

If the committee calls us, we're willing to name names—and the first one we'd like to name is our wife.

TO GIVE YOU some idea as to what lengths women will go to subvert their husbands, we'd like to reprint the text of a conversation held after the Waltz Club's meeting.

"Why don't you ever dance any more?" she asked.

"Because I don't have to. We're married. When I was courting you I had to impress on you the fact that I was a gay blade and full of fun and charm. Now that you know it, there is no reason for me to prove it to you any more."

"You're an old soak."

"I'm not an old soak. I'm 37 years old. In just 28 years I shall be eligible for Social Security. I want to enjoy those years quietly with my loved ones. I know many men who have gone out on a dance floor and have never come back. I don't want to be one of them."

"WELL, I LIKE to dance."

"I don't mind if you dance. I'm not a jealous husband."

"I've never heard such garbage in my life."

"All right. Then I'll tell you the real reason I don't dance. When I was young, I was a believer, but as the years went by, I realized that dancing is sinful and leads to evil thoughts and wild spirits.

"THE ONLY WAY I can keep the devil out of me is by sitting at a table and holding onto a glass of hard liquor. The minute I get up I go beserk — you know, like the natives in Africa."

"You're not very funny. You could have danced with me at least once."

"I did."

"When?"

"When I told you I wanted to go home."

LUDWIG ERHARD
Adenauer's successor

Erhard Voted Chancellor Of Germany

BONN, Germany (AP)—Ludwig Erhard, who directed West Germany's miraculous postwar economic recovery, was elected chancellor today to succeed Konrad Adenauer.

West Germany's lower house, the Bundestag, voted 279-180 to elevate the 66-year-old Erhard to the top government spot left vacant by Adenauer's reluctant retirement yesterday. There were 24 abstentions and one invalid vote.

Erhard needed 250 votes to win. His Christian Democrats were joined by their partners in the coalition government, the Free Democrats. The Socialists voted against him.

The chancellor was to go before the Bundestag later today to take the oath of office. He will present his new Cabinet to President Heinrich Luebke tomorrow.

Erhard has been economics minister throughout Adenauer's tenure as West Germany's only chancellor since the Federal Republic was created in 1949. Adenauer made no secret that he felt Erhard incapable of filling his shoes. He retired under extreme pressure from other leaders of his party.

Erhard has promised to follow Adenauer's basic foreign policies of support for the Western Alliance, demand for German reunification and reconciliation with France.

But he is expected to show less resistance to U.S. efforts to ease cold war tensions and to open up the European Common Marekt to trade with the rest of the free world. That will be the big difference.

Barring the unexpected, Erhard will serve the two years until the 1965 general election.

Corte Madera Subdivision Hearing Set

A public hearing on amending the Corte Madera subdivision ordinance to require posting of a maintenance bond to cover damage to streets by contractors' trucks was continued by the town planning commission Monday night to 7:30 p.m. Nov. 13.

The commission voted to renew the town's contract with Livingston and Blayney, planning consultants, to Sept. 30, 1964.

The Corte Madera Planning Commission also:

1. Approved plans by Richfield Oil Co. to remodel its station at Willow Avenue and Tamalpais Drive.

2. Postponed design review of plans by Allen and Lenz for 144 apartments at Paradise Drive and Prince Royal Passage because of insufficient information.

3. Approved an application by Wagstaff and McDonald for an addition to a small office building of the Allen Sheet Metal Co., near McGraw Hill Book Co., west of Highway 101.

Inmate In Stabbing Saved From Isolation

A San Quentin prison inmate, charged with stabbing a fellow prisoner last Wednesday, escaped being sentenced to the isolation ward by the prison disciplinary board yesterday because he is suffering from tuberculosis.

In severe violations of discipline, such as stabbing, inmates are often sentenced to the isolation ward.

In the case of Carlos Andrade, the board only referred the case to the district attorney.

"Because of his medical condition, there was no local punishment," reported Associate Warden Dale B. Frady.

Andrade, 32, who is serving five years to life for selling narcotics in Ventura County, is charged with stabbing James C. Birochie, 53, who is serving one to 14 years for forgery in Los Angeles County.

Birochie, who was stabbed in the left shoulder with a sharpened metal rod, has recovered, Frady said. Both men are patients in the tuberculosis ward at the prison hospital where the stabbing occurred.

Beer, Cigars Stolen At San Rafael Cafe

Burglars took 20 to 30 bottles of beer, five boxes of cigars, and about $10 in stamps from Eugene's Restaurant, 909 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, sometime last night.

San Rafael police said entry was made by cutting the screen on a washroom window and pushing aside a bar that had been loosened sometime previously when the restaurant was open.

Glass Door Kicked In

Someone kicked in the glass door of the Herzog Building at 1116 Fourth Street, San Rafael, sometime Monday night or yesterday morning, police reported today.

Man Suffers Cuts, Bruises In Auto Crash

A 66-year-old Monte Rio man suffered head cuts and back bruises at 11:27 a.m. yesterday when his southbound car veered into the wrong side of Golden Gate Bridge on a curve, struck the guard rail, bounced off and hit a northbound car.

Traffic on the bridge was delayed for several minutes.

Edward Bertels was treated at Marin General Hospital after being cited for carrying a bottle of whisky in the rear of his car.

The northbound driver, Nancy Leigh Olmstead, 36, of San Francisco, was unhurt.

Last Of Original Novato Patrolmen Is Promoted

The Novato City Council last night elevated the last of the city's five original police patrolmen to a sergeancy, effective Nov. 1.

The action did not come until the three-man council (Lucille Cannon and Howard Schoof were absent) spent almost an hour discussing the merits of promotion on seniority.

Sgt. Floyd Hollowell resigned yesterday to become chief of police at Newport, Ore.

Patrolman Maurice Lafferty was named to fill Hollowell's position.

City Administrator J. Julien Baget presented Lafferty's name with a recommendaion from Police Chief Roy McLaren that Lafferty be promoted. He said Lafferty is the last of the original patrolmen hired and had passed a sergeant's examination in September, 1962.

"It's not a case of not wanting Lafferty as sergeant, but I think we should throw it open to all the men," said Mayor M. E. Silva.

"If you take the order of just one examination, then the low man will get promoted eventually. A good new man doesn't have a chance," said Councilman Everett Pozzi.

Councilman John Angeloni, however, insisted, "A man is entitled to some reward for staying with the department." His view finally prevailed.

The Novato City Council also:

1. Authorized hiring an assistant city engineer with a salary range of $675 to $820.

2. Accepted a used dictaphone from Military Affiliated Radio Station at Hamilton Air Force Base. Repairs to the machine are not to exceed $75.

He Hates Noise

BOLOGNA, Italy (UPI)—Paolo Adani, 25, who hates noise, put a bullet yesterday through the gas tank of a motorcycle that had roused him from his afternoon nap. The motorcyclist, Giovanni Paparo, 17, called police, who charged Adani with firing a rifle in a public place.

Sausalito Engineer Turns In Resignation

John L. Hunter, Sausalito city engineer for four years, tendered his resignation last night, saying he is "retiring from active work."

The civil engineer, who lives at 99 Montford Avenue, Mill Valley, will also withdraw from active practice at his office in San Francisco.

The Sausalito City Council accepted the resignation and appointed B. J. Whitlow of San Rafael to succeed Hunter. Whitlow, who is also Larkspur city engineer, is a member of the firm of Whitlow, Hoffman and Albritton, civil and structural engineers, San Rafael.

He is to receive $12.59 per hour for meetings, $10 per hour for office engineering, drafting, consulting and inspection, $21 per hour for a two-man survey crew, and $30 per hour for a three-man survey crew. These rates are "considerably more" than those Hunter charged, said Mayor Paul Micou but, he added, Hunter was "probably not charging us the going rate."

Whitlow lives at 2 Westwood Drive, San Rafael.

Okra is a native of Africa.

Sausalito Dock Study Planned

Sausalito Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday expressed concern over the lack of a public docking facility for large cruiser-type boats in Sausalito.

Director Robert M. Gunn was appointed to head a subcommittee to investigate.

The board elected Trav Duro to fill the unexpired term of Edwin S. Long as director, the term to end in June 1965. Clifford C. Christison was elected treasurer to succeed Long, and William E. McDonnell was named second vice president, replacing Christison.

Marin Young GOP Denounces Gaston

Marin County Young Republicans, in a nearly unanimous resolution, last night denounced their official state leader, Robert Gaston, chairman of the California Young Republicans.

The resolution, adopted after lengthy debate at the group's meeting in the Terra Linda Community Center, praised Sen. Barry Goldwater's "repudiation" of the Los Angeles conservative.

"Sound conservatism should not be confused and identified with extremism and extremist groups," the resolution stated. "The Marin County Young Republicans resolve that Senator Goldwater is to be commended for his forthright rejection and repudiation of Robert Gaston as a spokesman for conservative principles and the Republican Party."

Goldwater said last week in Arizona that Gaston should "keep his mouth shut or get out of politics."

Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael) told the Marin Young Republicans they should "disassociate from these fringe groups of political idiots such as Gaston." The resolution followed.

Only "two or three" among about 50 present at the meeting were opposed to the resolution, said Donald G. Black, president.

Teen-Age Problem Will Be Discussed

Venereal disease among teen-agers will be discussed by Dr. Mary Jo Tonnelli of the Marin County Health Department at a meeting of the Marin County Nurses Assn. at the Civic Center at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Donald Quayle, senior group counselor at juvenile hall, will tell about solving teen-agers' probems. The meeting will be in the county planning commission room.

Closed Novato Session To Vote New Councilman

Eight Person Suggested But 'No One Has Inside Track'

Four members of the Novato City Council plan to meet behind closed doors tomorrow night to choose a fifth.

None of eight persons whose names have been bandied about in discussion of a replacement for Councilman Howard Schoof has an "inside track" for the job, the three councilmen present at last night's regular meeting agreed.

Mayor M. E. Silva then announced a successor to Schoof, whose resignation is effective Nov. 1, will be picked at an "executive session," probably tomorrow night. Schoof himself is out of town and will not be back tomorrow.

Mayor Silva and councilmen John Angeloni and Everett Pozzi each said no one of eight persons suggested had any "inside track."

"We have not held any discussion on it," Angeloni said.

Suggested to the council members have been Wayne Womack, Novato's first mayor who quit to run for county supervisor against William Gnoss; Charles Johnson, former councilman who quit after one term and is now on the county planning commission; Arnold Heise, a director of the North Marin County Water District; Alton Lerch, member of the parks and recreation commission; Robert Johnson, chairman of the planning commission; Eugene Trombley, member of the parks and recreation commission who has been an unsuccessful candidate twice for the council; Robert D. Carrow, who was unsuccessful candidate for State Assembly last year, and Jack Adams of the Hidden Valley Home Owners Assn.

"Heise told me that he did not want the job because he did not have the time for it," said Mayor Silva. All the others will be considered, the mayor said.

"At the executive sessions, we suggest names until we get three. Then we vote on them until one person get the majority, and that is the one we appoint," Pozzi said.

"There is no one picked before the meeting. I have come to them with one man in mind and been voted down," he said.

California law prohibits closed meetings of city councils except to hire, fire or hear charges against an official or employee. Some attorneys have interpreted the "hiring and firing" provision to include naming members of the council or board itself. Other legal authorities have taken an opposite view, holding that the council cannot hire its own

North San Pedro Road Work Is Scheduled

Widening of North San Pedro Road in front of the Marin County Civic Center will begin within 10 days if weather permits, Asst. Public Works Director Arthur T. Knutson said today.

Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael has a $30,930 contract to widen the road, adding an extra lane on the north side from San Pablo Road to the on-ramp to Highway 101.

Theft Of Tools, Oil, Liquor Is Reported

Elizabeth Francis told sheriff's officers Monday a burglar entered her home at 269 Calle de la Silva, Loma Verde, during the night, and took $80 worth of tools, oil and liquor from the garage. She said he had also tried to remove the radio from a car parked in the garage.

Entry was apparently gained through a sliding back door.

Big Change In NFL: George Halas Of The Bears Has Quieted Down

Jack Hanley

There used to be a time when George Halas was better copy than his Chicago Bears. But this year the founder, owner and coach of the Bears is dull copy. He hasn't made one inflammatory remark since the NFL season opened.

In carefully refraining from doing anything that might upset the 5-0 momentum of the Bears, Halas has subordinated himself into a colorless, secondary role. He no longer strolls the sidelines, offering officials the benefit of his 43 years of NFL experience on close calls.

Why, he hasn't even been accused of tampering with the official clock in Wrigley Field or provoking fans in enemy territory to take a poke at him. Halas and hassles used to go together like ham and eggs.

THE STRAIGHT man role doesn't fit Halas even in his old age. As a villain, a master of sideline pantomime and a needler beyond compare, Halas was a kind of loveable character—in a perverse sort of way, of course. Something like Erich Von Stroheim of the silen movies.

Von Stroheim was the arch villain of the silent era and movie goers in those days loved to hiss and boo him. So it was with Halas until this season. At one time or another fans all around the NFL circuit screamed hysterically at him. They've been deprived of that pleasure this year because of Halas' exemplary conduct.

Maybe, the report about Halas' imminent retirement is true. They're saying around the NFL he wants to bow out a winner and that he is willing to pay the price—a full season of serious football with no sideline shenanigans. That is quite a sacrifice for Halas.

BUT WE will never buy that retirement stuff. Halas tried it three times after making his first million. He discovered he couldn't take the frustration of second-guessing his coaches from the stands.

"It was killing me," he said in 1958 when he once again went back to the sidelines at the age of 63.

Now, five years later, Halas looks five years younger but there's little resemblance to the colorful character he once was when his football team didn't have a 5-0 record.

Heavyweight Boxer Dies Of Ring Injury

Combined AP & UPI

BALTIMORE — Heavyweight boxer Ernie Knox died in a Baltimore hospital today, a day and a half after he battled for a $250 purse.

Doctors said a blood clot on the brain killed him, and even had he lived he would have been partly crippled. Knox died at Provident Hospital at 6 a.m.

He was knocked out in the ninth round of his fight with Wayne Bethea of New York Monday night.

Knox, floored for a nine-count earlier in the round, lay stretched out on the ring canvas for nearly 10 minutes after a volley of Bethea punches sent him there at 1:15 of the round.

The 26-year-old Baltimorean was carried from the ring and later sent to the hospital.

At the hospital Knox seemed all right. But early Tuesday morning he went into a coma. An emergency operation removed a blood clot from his brain.

The loss was the fighter's sixth in 19 bouts. He won 10 and drew three.

His last one, before the Bethea fight, was nine months ago when he licked Jim Robinson in Reading, Pa.

In between his scattered bouts he sometimes worked as a hod carrier. He was collecting unemployment insurance when he stepped into the ring at the Coliseum to face Bethea.

While Knox was battling for his life, Baltimore Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin said he would do everything in his power to prevent professional boxing matches from being booked at the city's new $14 million civic center.

McKeldin said that under present conditions, pro boxing is "terrible and brutal." He termed the match between Knox and Bethea — in which Bethea held a 27-pound advantage—a "mismatch."

Knox took a tremendous beating at the hands of Bethea, who punished him with right uppercuts and left hooks for the nine rounds the fight lasted.

Asked why he had pitted Knox against Bethea, manager Mack Lewis said: "If you're ever going to get to the top, you have to take fights like this. You have to prove yourself to get better purses."

There have been seven deaths directly attributed to ring injuries among professional and amateur boxers in the world this year.

UPI WRITERS PICK WALT ALSTON PILOT OF YEAR

NEW YORK (UPI)—Walt Alston, the strong silent man from Darrtown, Ohio, who led the Los Angeles Dodgers to the National League pennant and an unprecedented four-game sweep of the New York Yankees in the World Series, was named N.L. Manager of the Year today by United Press International.

The selection of the 52-year-old Alston was made by a committee of 24 baseball experts representing every city in the major leagues. Seventeen of the experts chose Alston and the other seven named Johnny Keane of the St. Louis Cardinals. (Keane was picked as manager of the year by the Associated Press.)

A long-time Dodger "organization man" who struck out in the only major league appearance he ever made at bat, Alston now has led the Dodgers to the only three world championships in their history. He piloted them to their first and only title in Brooklyn in 1955 and led them to their first world championship in Los Angeles in 1959.

But Alston himself is the first to admit that 1963 turned out to be the greatest of his career. "My most satisfying season," he called it in what amounts to a Ciceronian address for him.

Alston started the season under the black cloud of the Dodger collapse in 1962 which led to reports that he might be booted out as manager. It was essentially the same team in 1963 as it had been in 1962 except for the acquisition of first-baseman Bill Skowron, who turned out to be little help until the World Series.

Seals Move To First Place With 5-2 Win Over Blades

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The defending champion San Francisco Seals seem to be taking up where they left off last year in the Western Hockey League—but newcomer Denver is hanging in tough.

Both teams scored victories on enemy ice las night to move to the top of the standings in the young season. San Francisco downed Los Angeles, 5-2, and Denver defeated Vancover, 5-3.

Pete Panagabko got the Seals off on the right foot with a 15-foot shot in the first period, Duke Edmundson and Mick Mickoski each scored in the second, and Jean-Mark Picard and Al Nicholson hit in the third.

Camilee Bedard, purchased by Los Angeles from the Seals last week, scored both goals for the Blades. He fired a 45-foot screen shot in the first period and hit again in the third.

The game was delayed 10 minutes when Frank Arnett of the Blades and Charlie Burns of the Seals tangled, and Edmundson joined in to make it a free-for-all.

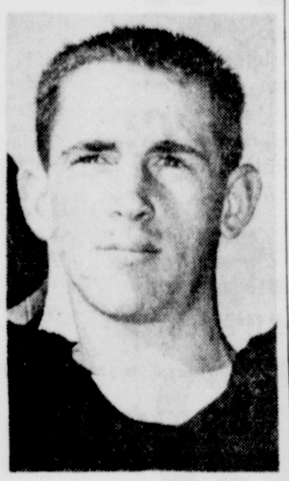

Denver, a new entry in the WHL, jumped into a 3-2 lead in the first period and split a brace of goals with the Canucks in the middle frame.

Denver scorers were Fred Hucul, Duck Lamoureux, John Fleaver, Steve Ditiuk and Rudy Migay. Buddy Boone had a pair of Vancouver's, and Jim Baird score once for the Canucks.

In tonight's only game, Denver plays at Portland.

Aaron Nips Mays For N.L. Slugging Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves edged San Francisco's Willie Mays in winning his second National League slugging championship and Harmon Killebrew of the Minnesota Twins captured his first American League title.

Aaron, the 1959 slugging king, collected 370 total bases in 631 times at bat for a .586 mark, according to figures compiled by The Associated Press. He had 201 hits, including 29 doubles, 4 triples and 44 homers, the latter total tying him for the NL lead with Willie McCovey of the Giants.

Mays had a .582 slugging mark on 347 total bases in 596 at bats, counting 32 doubles, seven triples and 38 homers among 187 hits. Mays is a three-time slugging champion, in 1954, 1955 and 1957.

Killebrew piled up 286 total bases in 515 times at bat for a .555 average. The Twins' outfielder led the AL with 45 homers.

Bob Allison, another Minnesota outfielder, was the American League runner-up with .537. He was followed by Elston Howard, New York Yankees .528; Dick Stuart, Boston .521; rookie Jimmie Hall, Minnesota .520 and Al Kaline, Detroit .514.

Following Mays in the National League were two other Giants.

McCovey, the big first baseman, was third with 19 doubles, 5 triples and 44 homers among 158 hits in 564 tries for a .566 slugging average.

Orlando Cepeda was fourth with .563. Then came Frank Howard, Los Angeles Dodgers .516; Vada Pinson, Cincinnati .514, and Johnny Callison, Philadelphia .500.

Clyde Brock Joins 49ers' Shakey Line

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)—Clyde Brock, one of possibly the greatest group of tackles ever assembled at one school at one time, will join the San Francisco 49ers.

Brock was claimed from the Dallas Cowboys yesterday and will be used to buttress the shakey 49ers offensive line. In order to make room for him, the Prospectors cut running back Lloyd Winston.

The 268-pound Brock was second string at Utah State. He just couldn't move out Merlin Olsen, now a Los Angeles Ram, and Clark Miller, now first-string defensive end for San Francisco.

SURPRISE

Winston's release was a mild surprise since he was the 49ers' best runner in the early season games. But the coaching staff apparently felt that rookie Don Lisbon had more potential.

The 49ers were heartened by the return of Billy Kilmer, one of the most exciting running backs ever to perform for them.

Kilmer shattered his ankle in an auto crash after last season. It was first thought his career was over, but he recovered so well that he may be able to see some action this year. He took his first practice session with the team yesterday.

The 49ers are 0-5 in league play and meet the Chicago Bears Sunday in Kezar Stadium. The Bears are leading the Western Division with a 5-0 mark.

Six former Michigan State baseball players are in the major leagues. They are Robin Roberts, Dick Radatz, Ron Perranoski, Jack Kralick, Al Luplow and Hobie Landrith.

Grandson Of Henry Ford Wants To Buy NFL Lions

DETROIT (AP) — The Ford automobile family's William Clay Ford is laying six million dollars on the line to buy the Detroit Lions.

Bill Ford, a scion of the famed auto world's Fords and who is president of the National Football League club, created a sensation at the Lions' directors meeting yesterday with the suprise offer.

The Lions now are governed by a board of directors responsible to 144 stockholders.

For his six million dollars Ford would get a squad of players and the Lions modest headquarters office, the club's only tangible assets.

The 38-year-old Ford Motor Co. official—he is a company vice president — is the first member of his family to be a sportsman on a major scale.

William Clay is one of three grandsons of auto pioneer Henry Ford.

Ford's offer to buy came with the Lions struggling to get back on the winning track. The Lions, considered title contenders at the start of the season, have dropped three of their five games.

Liston-Clay Bout Called 'A Mismatch'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A fight between Sonny Liston and Cassius Clay would be "a mismatch of the first magnitude," according to Sol Silverman, head of Gov. Edmund G. Brown's committee investigating boxing.

The San Francisco attorney yesterday said he does not think that "Clay has the skill, experience or maturity to contend for the heavyweight championship. Such a fight would expose Clay to serious injury and possibly fatality."

Liston has indicated that he may fight Clay next February.

But Silverman said that Liston should continue fighting exhibitions while heavyweight contenders such as Doug Jones and Cleveland Williams fight each other and the 21-year-old Clay grows up a little.

Horsemen Play Day Slated For Novato

A play day, open to all riders in the Novato area, will be held all day Sunday at the ranch grounds at 1695 Indian Valley Road, Tex Chillson, sponsor, announced today.

Trophies will be awarded to the three high point winners in both the junior and senior divisions. Ribbons will be given to the fourth place winners. There will also be a trophy in the pee wee events.

Michigan State halfback Bob Moreland, a 151-pounder from Richmond, Va., has run the 100 in 9.4 seconds.

Post Hearing Is Moved To Dec. 10

ATLANTA (AP) — A hearing on motions by Curtis Publishing Co. seeking a new trial of Wally Butts' libel suit, or a reduction of a $3.06 million judgment awarded him, has been postponed until Dec. 10.

The hearing, originally scheduled today, was ordered postponed by U.S. District Judge Lewis R. Morgan because the transcript of the trial is incomplete.

Bird Hunter Mistakes Tune, Kills Friend

UDINE, Italy (UPI) — Bird hunter Rino Gasparini thought he heard the tune of a lark on the other side of a hedge Monday and fired.

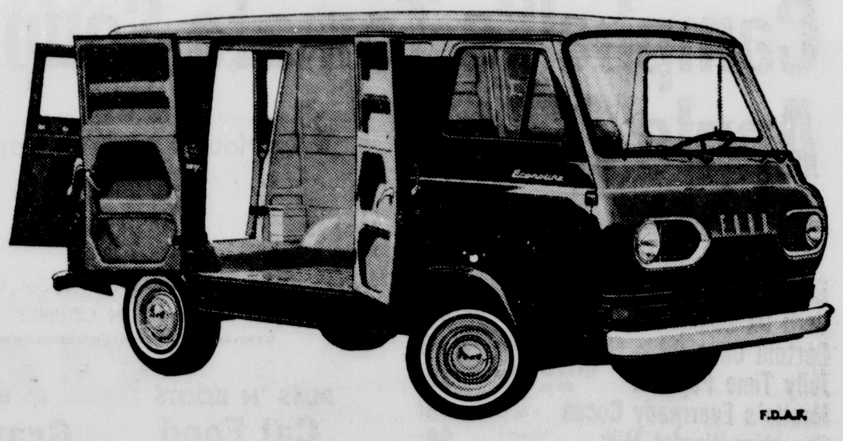

When he looked over the hedge Gasparini found he had shot and killed his friend, Elio Mainardis, 44, who had been whistling to lure a lark into shooting range.

SACRAMENTO'S 'PAPPY'

Gridder, 27, Has His Own Rooting Section

By BILL BOYARSKY

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Charles Johnson is a 27-year-old college freshman football player with a wife and 12 kids to cheer him on.

He also has an 80-acre farm with pigs, cows, sheep and a horse.

Chuck is a new student at American River Junior College near Sacramento — the first step in his long-delayed goal of becoming a school teacher.

He's a starting defensive tackle on the Beavers' football team manned, for the most part, by boys up to nine years his junior.

"They call me Pappy," says the 5-9, 234-pound Johnson. "But the only time my age really bothers me is when we have to do the long distance runs. That's the only time I lag behind."

SIX CHILDREN

Chuck and his wife, Tenia, 27, were married when they were 15. They have six children of their own—Judith, 10; Sue, 7; Connie, 5; Stanley, 4; Steven, 3, and Carney, a seven-month old boy.

Six other youngsters live with them, teenage boys released to their custody from the county juvenile hall.

The boys live at the ranch on the outskirts of Sacramento. The Johnson like youngsters and think the farm makes a good home for them.

Johnson got out of the Army at 18, pumped gasoline at a service station for five years, sold insurance for a year and then returned home to take over the family ranch when his father died.

"I've been trying to go back to school for nine years," he said. "What really fired me up was when my church, the Church of Christ, started talking about opening a Christian school in Sacramento. I want to be a teacher."

To get teaching credentials, he is up before 6 a.m. along with the others for breakfast and chores.

SCHOOL AT 7

He is at school at 7 a.m. to do homework and attend classes until 11 a.m. Then it's back to the ranch to work.

At 3 p.m. Johnson returns to school for three hours of football practice.

One night a week, he attends class and on other evenings does church work.

With all that, why football?

He likes sports. And, if he works hard, Johnson thinks he might have a chance for an athletic scholarship to help pay for his education at a four-year college.

$70,000 Sahara Invitational To Start Tomorrow

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—The $70,000 Sahara Invitational golf tournament gets underway tomorrow with most of the biggest names from Great Britain and the United States competing in the 72-hole event.

With first prize listed at $13,000, Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus were rated as co-favorites.

Neither Palmer nor Nicklaus competed in the pro-amateur event yesterday and today, but the British made a good showing.

After 18 holes of the 36-hole event, Eric Monti of Los Angeles led in individual scoring with a 66, and Gay Brewer had a 67. But Peter Allis of England was tied with Negro champion Charley Sifford at 68.

In the pro-amateur division, teams led by Christy O'Connor and Harry Weetman, of Great Britain, with their American partners, along with teams led by Harold Kneece and Ken Still, were tied for the lead with best-ball scores of 57.

The final 18 holes are set for today.

Marin Cage Clinic Scheduled Oct. 26

Second annual Marin County Basketball Clinic will be conducted on Saturday, Oct. 26, at the College of Marin from 8:30 to 4 p.m., it was announced.

The clinic is sponsored by the college and the County Schools Office. Cal Riemcke, College of Marin, and Charles Nagel, County Schools Office, are co-chairmen.

This year the clinic will present three outstanding speakers: Ned Wulk, head basketball coach at Arizona State University, Tempe; Bill Sharman, head basketball coach at Los Angeles State College, and Dick Edwards, head basketball coach at University of the Pacific.

The purpose of the clinic is to present a program that will aid basketball coaches in the Bay Area at elementary school through college level. The clinic will also interest recreation directors and coaches with CYO and YMCA groups.

Coaches Wulk, Sharman and Edwards will cover the fast-break offense, fundamentals of shooting, and the high school organization and building program.

In addition to the two chairmen, the committee is composed of E. R. Credell, assistant superintendent of Marin County Schools; Harry Pieper, College of Marin; Carl Brown, Sir Francis Drake High School; Eddie Chavez, Tamalpais High School; Mike Diaz, San Rafael High School; Dick Hart, Redwood High School; O. T. McAtee, Novato High School; Bernie Schneider, Marin Catholic High School, and George Starn, Terra Linda High School.

San Rafael Drivers Enter Petaluma Kart Competition

When Petaluma plays host to the Western States Clay Track Kart Endurance Championships next Sunday, San Rafael will be well represented by several of the best kart drivers on the Pacific Coast.

Already entered in this championship race are Vic Hedemark, Ray Bobo, Bob Milani and Frank Pennington, all of Santa Venetia and Don Haney of San Rafael.

Bobo, a San Rafael High School student, is considered by most kart followers to be the top driver of the nation in the lightweight division. He recently won the Territorial Championships at Escalon, Calif. and was rated to take the National title at Rockford, Illinois in September but was unable to attend the meet.

Pennington is an Enduro specialist although his class C sprint machine won the Nationals at Newman in 1960. He has raced in the World's Championships at Bakersfield, the International Championships at Las Vegas, losing a close one to Tim Considine, TV star of "My Three Sons," and for the last three years has been a front runner at the annual Vaca Valley 100 mile endurance run.

Young Milani, a student at Terra Linda High and Hedemark are both sprint drivers.

Cal Halfback Boosted To Bear First Team

BERKELEY (UPI)—Halfback Jerry Mosher was promoted to the first team yesterday as coach Marv Levy worked on defensive drills with his University of California Bears.

Levy said his troops would be in good physical condition for Saturday's battle with San Jose State, which upset favored Washington State last weekend.

Warner Football At Lions Club

Pop Warner Football will be in the spotlight at tomorrow night's meeting of the Corte Madera Lions Club, President Edward P. Sabo announced.

Guest speaker will be John Pagliaro, coach of the Redwood Junior Giants team, who will show films of a championship bowl game at Boise, Idaho and also explain the Pop Warner program. The meeting will be held at the Corte Madera Recreation Center, 7 p.m.

Indians Prepare For Washington Gridders

STANFORD (UPI)—The Stanford Indians held extensive defense drills in the rain yesterday in preparation for Saturday's game against the tough University of Washington at Seattle.

Coach John Ralston said first string ends Bob Howard and Frank Pattitucci did not participate. Howard has a virus, and Pattitucci is nursing a sprained ankle.

NBA To Open Its Season Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Basketball Assn., sporting two franchise shifts, several coaching changes and a new commissioner, begins its 18th season tonight.

However, the old problem remains—can anybody stop the Boston Celtics, who will be shooting for their sixth straight championship?

Boston invades Baltimore for its opener against the Bullets, who return to the NBA after dropping out following the 1953-54 season. Baltimore took over the Chicago Zephyrs' franchise.

The Philadelphia 76ers, formerly the Syracuse Nationals, open at Detroit, while the Cincinnati Royals meet the Hawks in St. Louis.

Bob Leonard, who played with Chicago and the Los Angeles Lakers, is the Baltimore coach, while the veteran Syracuse star, Adolph Schayes directs Philadelphia, back in the league after a one-year absence.

Alex Hannum, who coached Syracuse, is the new boss of the San Francisco Warriors; Jack McMahon, who coached Chicago, has replaced Charley Wolf at Cincinnati, and Wolf has taken over direction of the Detroit Pistons.

Warriors Lose Final NBA Exhibition Tilt

MISSOULA, Mont. (UPI)—The Los Angeles Lakers defeated the San Francisco Warriors 111-101 yesterday in the final National Basketball Assn. exhibition battle for both teams.

The Warriors open their NBA season Saturday night in Baltimore.

Even A Novice Can Bake A Perfect Pie

One of the newest of these is canned Raisin Pie-Filling. Even a novice cook can bake a perfect pie every time by just turning the contents of the one-pound six ounce can into an eight-inch unbaked pastry shell. Cover with a second crust or pastry cut-outs for a pretty party pie, the Borden Kitchen suggests.

If you have a baked shell "on hand," the pie-filling can be turned into the shell and placed in the refrigerator to chill. At serving time top with whipped cream or scoops of lemon sherbet.

Raisin pie-filling can also be used as a pudding topping or blended into a sauce for baked ham.

Sprinkle Cheese

QUICK RAISIN PIE

(Makes one 8-inch pie)

2¼ cups (1 lb. 5-oz. can) Raisin Pie-Filling

Prepare 2 sticks pie crust according to package directions. Shape pastry into 2 rounds. Cover one round and set aside. Roll out one round for pie pan. Fit pastry into pan. Trim edge and flute. Pour raisin pie filling into pastry shell. Reserve about 12 raisins to place on top pastry cutouts prepared later. Bake pie in hot oven (425 degrees) 25 to 30 minutes, or until crust is golden brown. Remove from oven. Cool. Roll out remaining dough to ⅛-inch thickness. Cut with daisy-shaped or any decorative cookie cutter. Bake pastry cutouts on ungreased cookie sheet in (425-degree) oven 3 to 5 minutes, or until lightly browned. Cool. Arrange over top of baked pie. Place a reserved raisin in center of each pastry cutout.

Celebrities Go For Sauces

Hollywood's Edith Head, costume designer of Paramount Pictures, favors party meals with ranch salads and charcoal-broiled meats. The cooking is done in a pleasant indoor-outdoor working area that glows with copper, Mexican pottery and patio flowers.

A favorite main dish for her famed Beverly Hills dinners is charcoal-barbecued lamb. She takes two double racks of lamb, Frenched, covers ends of the chops with aluminum foil, and cooks the meat over an open wood charcoal briquet fire, basting frequently with this sauce:

LAMB SAUCE

½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. celery salt
½ tsp. black pepper
½ tsp. dry mustard
2 tbs. Worcestershire sauce

A highly praised garnish with the lamb is currant-mint sauce. To a jar of chopped red currant jelly is added 1½ teaspoons of finely chopped mint leaves, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind, and 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind.

SPARERIB SAUCE GLEASON

1 cup catsup
¼ cup cider vinegar
2 level tbs. brown sugar
2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
½ tsp. Tabasco sauce
Salt and pepper to taste
1 small onion
1 clove garlic
2 tbs. butter

Put butter in pan with chopped onion and garlic. Fry until golden. Add catsup, vinegar, brown sugar and seasonings. Cook slowly for 15 minutes. Baste ribs.

A favorite sauce of White House press secretary Pierre Salinger also has a catsup base. It's for barbecued spareribs or short ribs.

Meat Pies—A Man's Dish

Meat pie cooked over wood charcoal briquets was a leading entry in a recent national cook-out contest for men only. Here's the recipe, planned for a party of six. The treat, of course, is "convertible"—that is, it can be prepared just as easily indoors over a fireplace grill or built-in kitchen grill.

2 cloves garlic, crushed
⅓ cup butter
1 lb. cooked ham, cut in 1-inch cubes
2 green peppers, cut in 1-inch pieces
2 small onions, minced
1 lb. small mushrooms, quartered
2 tbs. lemon juice
½ tsp. oregano
3 tsp. salt
tsp. pepper
5 slices bacon
2 cups biscuit mix
½ tsp. paprika
⅔ cup milk
14-inch heavy duty quilted foil

CUT LAMB into 1-inch cubes. In large skillet, saute with garlic in butter until well browned, about 10 minutes. Add ham, green pepper, onion and mushrooms; cook 5 minutes. Add sherry flavoring, lemon juice, oregano, salt and pepper; simmer, uncovered, for 10 minutes, stirring frequently.

Cook bacon until crisp; drain well and crumble. Combine bacon, biscuit mix and paprika; stir in milk and mix to a smooth dough. Divide dough into 6 portions and roll each out to a 7-inch square. Spoon equal portions of meat and vegetable mixture onto center of squares; crimp edges of dough together, forming rolls.

CUT SIX 10 x 14-inch sheets of foil; place a roll on each and wrap securely. Place on grill over glowing wood charcoal briquets; cook 10 to 12 minutes, turning frequently to brown evenly. Remove from grill; fold foil back and crimp around edges to make serving dishes. Garnish with pineapple Chunks, lemon slices and parsley sprigs, if desired.

Quick Dish For Neighbors

MORE CORN THAN EGGS

⅔ cup drained canned whole-kernel corn
Salt and freshly-ground pepper
2 tablespoons butter

Beat eggs just enough to blend yolks and whites. Add corn and a dash of salt and pepper. Melt butter in an 8-inch skillet so it is medium-hot; pour in egg mixture. Cook gently, lifting egg mixture from bottom of skillet as egg sets. Serve at once. Makes 2 servings.

Give Flavorful New Taste, Look To Hors d' Oeuvres

Give a flavorshome new taste and colorful new look to hors d'oeuvres, with easy-to-make Miniature Red Cheese Balls. These tiny tidbits are a combination of natural Cheddar and cream cheese with some select seasonings and a few other well-chosen ingredients, all whipped together in just one step.

Shape and roll the chilled cheese mixture into thirty little cheese balls in advance, and at party time, roll them in finely chopped dried beef and serve. And, if it's important to save time on the day of the party, do the complete job the day before and refrigerate until ready to serve. Be sure to cover with a sheet of aluminum foil or waxed paper before refrigerating, to prevent drying out.

Miniature Red Cheese Balls will make much to talk about, for they do make a different kind of appetizer.

MINIATURE RED CHEESE BALLS

1 (8-oz.) bar natural cheddar cheese, finely shredded
1 (3-oz.) package cream cheese, softened
¼ cup chopped pitted ripe olives
1 tablespoon light cream
3 tablespoons sherry
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Dash garlic salt
Dash celery salt
1 (3-oz.) package dried beef, finely chopped (about 1¼ cups)

In small bowl, combine all ingredients except dried beef. Beat until fluffy and throughly combined. Turn mixture onto piece of aluminum foil large enough to wrap around mixture. Wrap and refrigerate about 8 hours or overnight. Unwrap and shape into thirty ¾-inch balls. Roll each ball in chopped dried beef. Serve with crackers and relishes.

METHODIST MEN PLAN FISH FRY

The Methodist Men of the First Methodist Church in San Rafael will hold their annual Fish Fry on Friday.

Serving will begin at 5:30 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at the door or from members.

A NEW APPROACH to hors d'oeuvres are these easy-to-make Miniature Red Cheese Balls. They will make much to talk about for they do make a different kind of appetizer.

Easy to Love

One of the nicest things about Lucas Valley Milk is that you really enjoy it! Youngsters especially love its wonderful fresh, creamy flavor—and this makes it a lot easier on you, Mother. You don't have to say "Drink your milk!" when you set a tall, cold glass of Lucas Valley Milk in front of your child. You just say "Here it is"—and watch it disappear!

State's Civilian Population Of 27.88 Million Expected

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's civilian population is expected to jump from its present 17.6 million to 27.88 million in the next 17 years.

That prediction was made this week by the State Department of Finance in a new population report.

The report also indicates a number of trends, including:

Native born Californians are increasing faster than persons migrating into the state. The population increase in the decade 1970-1980 will be made of nearly equal numbers of migrants and natives.

By July 1, 1980, women will outnumber men 14.2 million to 13.7 million.

Children Brain Injury To Be Discussion Topic

Dr. H. F. Thelander of Tiburon, director of the child development center at Children's Hospital in San Francisco, will discuss treatment for children suffering from brain injuries at a meeting of parents, child specialists and educators at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Children's Hospital.

The meeting is sponsored by parents and child specialists from San Francisco and Marin counties who are planning to form a Bay Area chapter of the California Assn. for Neurologically Handicapped Children.

Kentfield Schools Seeking Office Site

Supt. Howard C. Harmon was authorized by the Kentfield School District board Monday night to search for commercial property for a new district office so he can move from "temporary" quarters occupied for more than a year in Greenbrae School.

The present space is expected to be need by the principal, said Harmon.

The board agreed to share costs with the Parent-Teacher Associations for six performances at district schools by Young Audiences, Inc., consisting of musicians from the San Francisco and Oakland symphony orchestras.

The Kentfield School District board also:

1. Approved hiring of four noontime supervisors and three recreation directors.
2. Accepted the low bid of Ray Forster, at $415, to build a concrete retainer around a sycamore tree and resurface for proper drainage in the primary area of Adaline E. Kent School.
3. Discussed revised plans for a third addition to Wolfe Grade School and continued discussion.
4. Decided to hold the board meeting previously set for Nov. 4 on Nov. 11 and the meeting previously set for Nov. 18 on Nov. 25.

Auto-Caused Smog Is Topic Of Meeting

Smog caused by auto exhausts will be the subject of a discussion at the dinner meeting of the Marin Chapter of the California Society of Professional Engineers tonight at 6:30 o'clock at Sabella's Restaurant, Alto.

John A. Maga, chief of the bureau of air sanitation of the State Department of Public Health, will review minimum standards for air pollution control programs.

Novato Sanitation Board Approves Plan For Pumps

Plans for installation of two centrifugal pumps were approved and bids were called, to be opened on Oct. 30 by the Novato Sanitary District board Monday night.

The engineer's estimate on the job was $4,000.

The district has ordered two centrifugal pumps to take care of surplus water in the mains during the rainy season. This work is to install the pumps when they arrive about Dec. 1, said Albert Tresch, district manager.

Plans for a 12-inch force main on Railroad Avenue from Olive Avenue to Hancock Street were held up for further review of the board, Tresch said. The board wanted time to study to see whether the 12-inch main would be adequate.

The 34-lot Novato Pines subdivision on Novato Boulevard at McClay Road was annexed by the board.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Farewell Party In Honor Of Mrs. Pendergrass

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

A farewell party was given this morning in honor of Mrs. Eleanor Pendergrass by Mrs. Wesley Baker, wife of Reverend Baker of the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael, in the Presbyterian manse. She will be a receptionist in the office of Burlington and Covington, the oldest law firm in Washington. Dean Acheson, who was Secretary of State, during the administration of President Truman, is one of the partners in the law firm. Before she left Washington Eleanor was the dinner guest of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Robey. He is one of the top economists of the country and his wife is an actress. He is listed in Who's Who in America and his wife is named in the Who's Who of the American Women.

Salvage Shop Chairman Former Staff Member Of United Nations

Mrs. John C. Alexander, new chairman of the Sausalito Salvage Shop, finds that she has worked harder at her volunteer jobs since 1950 than she ever did as a production assistant in the printing and advertising business.

She has been a member of the Sausalito Salvage Shop more than five years and for the past two has been co-chairman.

THE OTHER new officers are Mesdames Richard F. Phillips, co-chairman; Edwin Long, secretary; Cyril Hansen, treasurer, and Sherwood Armstrong, counselor.

When no longer needed clothes and many other items can mean when donated to the shop is shown in the fact that $6,652.50 was distributed to 27 organized charities from proceeds last year.

"Donations have increased every year," Mrs. Alexander said, "since the shop was started in 1941 on remnants from a Bundles for Britain sale.

"Our non-profit volunteer group contributes to any worthy or charitable cause voted on by a majority of members," the new chairman explained.

MRS. JOHN ALEXANDER

"At present we have 48 regular members working a half day a week and 16 substitutes. We welcome any woman in Sausalito who is interested in joining.

MRS. ALEXANDER is a member of another group, "The Promenade," which models antique fashions for clubs, conventions and the like.

"This is composed of a group of young women who specialize in the collection of clothes, accessories and artifacts from the turn of the century to World War I," she said.

A native of Hannibal, Mo., Ruth Alexander grew up in Topeka, Kan., and attended Washburn University three years, majoring in English and drama.

IN ADDITION to working in the printing and advertising business she was employed on the staff of the United Nations when that organization was formed in San Francisco, and, as the last employee to leave, was responsible for shipping the files.

SHE WAS married in 1937 to John Alexander, a fire insurance underwriter. They have lived in Sausalito 12 years and have no children.

As a later hobby Ruth Alexander studied art privately with Edith Truesdell of Mill Valley and Barbara Briggs of Tiburon and also at the College of Marin. She is now a member of the Marin Society of Artists. She works in oils and plastic mosaics, of which an interesting type is transparent mosaics for windows.

Pattern For A Happy Halloween

A stitch in time can often save everybody's Halloween fun. And now is the time to get busy on costumes for the youngsters, or on planning party foods and games. It's positively spooky what a difference your foresight can make.

ONE PATTERN for youthful enjoyment of the holiday is a jump suit that can be varied to suggest a bunny, a cat, or a spaceman! It's McCall's pattern 6991, available in a range of young sizes from 4 to 12.

For the cat outfit, use a printed fur cloth with black velveteen ears and mitts, and black cotton satin for the cap facing. You'll need one yard of hat wire or featherboning for stiffening the tail, and four or five ounces of cotton or Dacron batting for stuffing ears and tail.

A BUNNY costume charming enough to melt the flintiest grownup can be made for small trick-or-treaters out of pink Orlon pile with white cotton satin bow and cap facing. For the floppy ears, you'll need white felt facings and buckram interfacings. Make the "cottontail" out of white 4-ply knitting worsted.

THE SPACE suit may send a small boy into orbit, but if his mother has her feet on the ground she'll buy a water-repellent fabric for it. Then the garment can become a snowsuit when Halloween is just a memory.

On this outfit, the sleeves and trouser legs are finished with ready-made 3½-inch wide knitted black cuffs; the cap is lined in black cotton satin.

WHETHER A YOUNGSTER prefers to be a cool cat on Halloween or don the garb of a spaceman or a rabbit, you can start the fun with a basic jump suit and create the desired outfit with the trimmings.

Make a space traveler's "antenna" out of pipe cleaners, covered with green single fold bias tape.

WHICHEVER costume you choose, a few general tips will make your task easier: first be sure that woolens, washable fabrics and interfacings are pre-shrunk. Straighten the ends of your fabric by tearing across. If it does not tear well, draw a thread across, then cut on line of drawn thread.

To bring your efforts to a fitting conclusion, master the art of stay-stitching. This means that you run a row of machine-stitching a scant ⅛-inch outside the seam line indicated on the pattern to prevent the edges from stretching.

Trim enclosed seams to about ¼-inch from stitching on collars, etc., before turning right side out. Clip seam edges on inward curves and corners when necessary. Press seams and sections as the work progresses; press each seam open after stitching unless the pattern directions show otherwise.

FESTIVITIES as well as costumes should have a "grand design"— and it's easy to plan menus and decorations that fit the spooky theme. What could be simpler to fix than cheeseburgers, for example? But an ordinary cheeseburger becomes a special Halloween treat when decorated with "eyes", "nose" and "teeth" cut out of green pepper to suggest a Jack O' Lantern.

Similarly, you can make a "midnight cake" out of any good Devil's food mix. Atop the cake, draw a witch's broom and hat, or an orange pumpkin and black cat. You can buy special icings and gels in squeeze tubes which make cake decoration easy.

AN UNUSUAL Black Cat Pinata is both a party decoration and a party game sure to delight youngsters. Basically, it's just a paper bag filled with small gifts and goodies and decorated with crepe and construction paper to resemble a sinister cat's head. You hang it over the party table and after the refreshments have been disposed of, the youngsters are blind-folded and take turns trying to break open the grinning cat to release the stream of gifts inside.

Young And Younger Love Leads To Altar

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Along Main St., U.S.A., younger and younger love's leading to the altar.

He's a teen. So's she. It's a sweet wedding. Partly they got to the "I do" stage early by buying contemporary glamorous images of marriage.

They hopped on the bandwagon and said: "Everyone else is doing it."

What numbers? The latest census figures indicate that the number of married males under 20 years of age was 262,133; the number of married females, 1,048,054.

TEENAGE MARRIAGES, you see, is typical of the times.

A review of the dilemma of the teenage parent, published in "Currents in Public Health," a publication for health workers, cites some of the problems — and compensations. Samples:

— The personal motivations leading to marriage are essentially the same among teenagers as among adults. The motivations: Love, companionship, security and desire for children.

— But often early marriage reflects emotional problems of a severe nature. The marriage might occur as an attempt to resolve personal or social adjustment problems or as an escape from an unhappy home, school or community situation.

— FOR THE insecure teenager who seeks and needs affection, acceptance, and warmth from another person, marriage and the shouldering of family obligations are seen as a source of immediate satisfaction.

— The most intense problems of married teen-agers come when they're about to become parents. Problems include conflicts between the youngsters and their parents, on whom the teen-agers are often dependent financially.

MR. AND MRS. REGINALD CAROLAN

Judy Brown Exchanges Vows At Ceremony In San Diego

The marriage of Judy Brown of Spokane, Wash., and Reginald Carolan of San Diego, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Howell Carolan of Tahoe Valley and Marin, has been announced.

The couple exchanged vows at the chapel of the First Methodist Church in San Diego in a ceremony attended by family members and close friends.

The bride, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Brown of Spokane, was given in marriage by her father. Mrs. Bud Whitehead was the honor attendant. The bridegroom's brother, Ken Carolan of San Jose, was best man, and the usher was Tom Kale of San Diego, a fraternity brother of the bridegroom at University of Idaho.

Reg was graduated from University of Idaho, where he was a member of Beta Theta Pi, Blue Key, Phi Epsilon Kappa, and he is now a member of the San Diego Chargers professional football team.

Judy also attended University of Idaho, where she was affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta sorority and is now a senior at San Diego State College. She is the sister of Mrs. Leon Lewis of Hawaii.

The couple is living in San Diego.

Credit Women's Club Installs Mrs. Murray New President

Mrs. William A. Murray was installed president of the Credit Women's Breakfast Club of Marin County at a dinner meeting at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, San Rafael.

Mrs. Murray has also served the organization as corresponding secretary and first vice president.

A MEMBER of the credit office at Lachman Brothers home furnishings in San Rafael, Regina Murray says that the club enables its members, through a continuing educational program, to keep abreast of changing consumer credit and improve their ability in the credit field. Her plans for the year include the annual Bosses Night in March and a past presidents brunch as well as the club projects.

Mrs. Murray is also an active member of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Marin Rod and Gun Club and served as its president in 1962 and now is on its board of directors.

A WIDOW, Mrs. Murray has lived in Marin for the past 15 years, currently sharing her San Anselmo home with her springer spaniel, Hogan. One of the activities she most enjoys on the weekends and off hours is fishing, although she likes the land-lubber pursuits of gardening and flower arranging also.

MRS. MURRAY

Mrs. Murray finds studying very stimulating and she has been taking home correspondence courses in credit, and business education and administration, and enjoys passing on the benefits of her credit education in assisting people with their credit problems.

ALSO INSTALLED were Mesdames Jim Nuckols, vice president; Saul Rubenstein, second vice president; Robert Parr, recording secretary; Alphabel Douglas, corresponding secretary; Charles Hueg Jr., treasurer, and Adelaide Tedrick, past president and parliamentarian.

Committee chairmen for the year are Mesdames Doris Kreuzer, Caroline Fooshee, Frances Wayman, Donald McLean, Robert Kearney, Michael Gorb, Dorsey Cross and Misses Loretto O'Rourke and Patricia Ammann.

Belvedere Women Aid Noel Project

The Episcopal Churchwomen of St. Stephen's parish in Belvedere are spending a busy month preparing for their contribution to the Musee de Noel to be held Nov. 18 to Dec. 7 at the Women's City Club in San Francisco.

For the second year the group is joining with other women throughout the Diocese of California to raise money which will benefit St. Luke's Hospital, Episcopal sponsored hospital in the Bay Area.

The women met last week for the first time at the Belvedere home of Mrs. Dickerson McAfee, where they made aprons, child's pinafores, stuffed animals and gaily decorated match boxes. These will be sold by the women at their own booth at the Musee, called Petit de Noel.

The women will meet again tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. McAfee and again on Oct. 24 to finish the sewing and craft projects.

BUSY AT THE sewing machines preparing for their contribution to the Musee de Noel to be held Nov. 18 to Dec. 17 for the benefit of St. Luke's Hospital are Episcopal Churchwomen of St. Stephen's parish in Belvedere, from left, Mesdames Richard Bates, Eugene Kilgore, William Myers, Charles McLaughlin, Clayton Claassen and Dickerson McAfee. HATTERS NOT MAD—When it comes to National Hat Week, presidential photographs like these have the National Hat Council flipping its lid for joy instead of blowing its top. While better off with former Presidents Harry Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower, the council has had its troubles with President John F. Kennedy, who rarely is seen wearing a hat. But a hat salesman has gotten this endorsement from Kennedy: "A man is not well dressed without a hat." (AP Wirephotos)

Loan Association Asks Indictment Be Dropped

SACRAMENTO (AP) — West Coast Savings and Loan Assn. yesterday asked Sacramento Superior Court Judge Raymond T. Coughlin to set aside an indictment charging the firm with making illegal loans.

The firm was indicted by the Sacramento County Grand Jury Sept. 19, along with three of its former officials, a Sacramento attorney and a bankrupt builder.

Attorneys argued that the association cannot be charged with illegal acts under the section of the code on which the indictment was based.

The section, they said, was written to protect the association, its depositors and stockholders against illegal acts of company officers.

The indictment charged the firm and the individuals with making illegal loans to Oscar Parker, a Sacramento subdivider who went bankrupt owing 17 million dollars.

Also indicted were Parker; Robert G. Joseph, former West Coast president; William J. McCormick and John L. Pierce, former West Coast vice presidents, and William P. Dwyer, Sacramento attorney.

Radiation Space Danger Revealed

SANTA MONICA (UPI)—Space scientists told Monday of dangerous radiation that poses a threat to future astronauts orbiting as low as 200 miles above the earth.

Physicists for Douglas Aircraft's missile and space systems division said they had discovered the existence of the dangerous radiation that extends to lower altitudes than was believed previously.

Scientists had considered the radiation in the fringes of the Van Allen Belt below 400 miles above the earth to be negligible. Douglas researchers said recent data indicates there may be enough radiation trapped at these relatively low altitudes to lead to undesirable effects after exposure for comparatively long periods.

Keven F. O'Boyle, 18, a San Francisco City College student, pleaded innocent Monday to charges of robbery and extortion, stemming from his arrest Aug. 31 after John Emery McGowan, 126 Allyn Avenue, San Anselmo, complained the youth had taken his cash and ransacked his house.

Judge N. Charles Brusatori in Marin County Superior Court continued the case to Oct. 28 to decide on a date for the trial. O'Boyle and a 17-year-old companion were arrested hours after McGowan's complaint, when they were seen hitchhiking through Novato.

Agriculture Wage Reports Due Soon

Employers of agricultural workers must file their wage reports for the third quarter of 1963 in Sacramento by Oct. 31, Charles J. Brady, auditor at the State Department of Employment office in San Rafael, reported today.

Deductions from workers' wages for disability insurance also must be sent to Sacramento by Oct. 31, Brady said. Report forms are available at the office at 807 F Street, San Rafael.

Kentfield Civic League To Nominate

A Kentfield Civic League board of directors for fiscal 1964 will be nominated and elected at an annual membership meeting at 8 p.m. Nov. 25 in the Little Theater of College of Marin, the outgoing board decided Monday night.

Allen G. Wright, president, will submit a slate of candidates being drawn up by the board, and members will be invited to submit nominations from the floor. Election will be at the same meeting, said Wright.

The civic league board named John Dakin of 18 Wolfe Grade Road, stockbroker with J. Barth and Co., to succeed Paul Holter, who had resigned as recording secretary.

Director Robert H. Busse was appointed to investigate traffic confusion at Kent, College, Woodland and Madrone avenues; danger to children crossing Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at College and difficulty of access from McAllister avenue to Drake.

Supervisors Adopt Time-Saving Plan

The Marin County Board of Supervisors lopped off a time-consuming function yesterday by dispensing with reading of routine appointments of new employees, promotions and step increases in salaries.

"I'd say this is a very significant step," observed Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, who has been attempting to weed out time-consuming procedures from the supervisors' agenda.

Chairman William D. Fusselman had called for reading of the "personnel matters," a three-page list of appointments and salary raises. County Clerk George Gnoss was part way through the reading when Supervisor Peter H. Behr interrupted: "We all have copies of this. If it is acceptable, why not dispense with the reading?"

"But he public doesn't have copies and they would want to know what's going on," said Fusselman.

Why not have additional copies of the "personnel matters" on the desk for any member of the audience who wants it? suggested Fusselman. "Then we can dispense with the reading."

Everyone agreed, and this will be done in future supervisors' meetings.

Civic Center View To Be On Television

A view of the Marin County Civic Center, designed by architect Frank Lloyd Wright, will be shown on the National Broadcasting Co. color television show, "Exploring" from noon to 1 p.m. Oct. 26.

Wright's use of space and form will be explained by Dr. Albert Hibbs, program host.

Man Guilty In Disturbance After Jumper's Death

SANTA BARBARA (UPI) — Donald Molitor, 35, Van Nuys, yesterday was found guilty on two counts in connection with a disturbance that followed the sky diving death of jumper Robert Gardiner at Santa Ynez.

Municipal Judge Walter E. Parent, acting on the basis of reports on the Aug. 31 incident and affidavits by the defendant, found Molitor guilty of intoxication and disturbing the peace, levying fines of $56 and $220, respectively. But he ruled Molitor innocent of resisting arrest.

Charges followed an attack on two deputies investigating the death of Gardiner, whose parachute failed to open in a mass torchlight jump from 15,000 feet last Aug. 31.

Best To Know Your Rivers To Analyze Hand At Bridge

According to the 1960 census, 100,000 men have drowned themselves in the Mississippi River because they failed to draw trumps.

Nobody thought of examining the other rivers, which are favored by those who have drawn trumps too soon.

Opening lead — ♣ K

When this hand was played in a rubber bridge game recently, South ruffed the third round of clubs and drew three rounds of trumps as fast as he could get the cards out of his hand.

NO STOPWATCH

It was thought for a while that he had shaved a second off the old trump-drawing record, but there was no way of being sure since nobody had thought of pulling out a stopwatch.

The rest of the hand took longer to play since South was a hard giver-up.

EASY ANALYSIS

Since South headed away from the Mississippi River, we can tell where he went wrong: he drew trumps too soon.

Declarer can make the contract if he draws only two rounds of trumps.

Then he takes the three top hearts. As it happens, East has to follow suit, and West cannot ruff for the simple reason that he has no trump.

SOUTH RUFFS

South then ruffs his last heart with dummy's last trump, thus earning game and rubber.

The actual declarer could make the contract only if the six missing hearts were divided 3-3.

The correct play will make the contract not only if the hearts break evenly but also if the player with length in hearts also has the last trump.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday Oct. 16, the 289th day of 1963 with 76 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase. The morning star is Jupiter. The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1934, Chinese Communists began their "long march" to the northwest where they established headquarters and planned to continue the attack against the Nationalist forces of Chiang Kai-shek.

In 1859, abolitional John Brown staged a raid on Harper's Ferry, Va., seizing a hotel, arsenal, firehouse and 30 townspeople.

A thought for the day— Roman Emperor Marcus Aurelius said: "Receive wealth or position without arrogance, and be ready to let it go."

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Advertising is News

The many pages of this newspaper are full of news of many things. News of people and their doings in nearby places and to the far corners of the earth. And most recently in the upper reaches of outer space.

But there is another kind of news that you hold in your hands as you read a newspaper. Not the news of people but of products and services... the news in the advertisements.

It has often been said that the function of advertising is to improve the standard of living. It does have such a function. But it must start, necessarily, with the manufacturers who make the products.

What advertising does is to tell people about new and better things—and new features of established favorites—and where they can be bought. In a very real sense, to increase demand and lead the way to lower prices. It is literally and actually true that practically everything you buy would cost you more if there were no advertising.

Without advertising to inform the public, there couldn't be mass production as we know it today, with all its economies and advantages. People can't buy things—or want things—unless they know they exist.

The big problem in this country at this moment, and likely to be a big problem for some time to come, is not so much over-production as under-consumption.

Advertising is the ideal technique for mass communication because it is the cheapest, quickest—and most responsible—way to reach the people.

One thirty-inch advertisement, with a daily circulation of 32,217, costs only $76.50. Yet a 4c postcard, sent to the same 32,217 families would cost $1,288.65 in postage alone! And this doesn't include cost of the cards, printing or addressing.

It is a fact that advertising will speed up sales and create valuable good will for a brand or store. Witness the actual money value of any well-advertised, well-regarded name.

It is equally certain that back of that name, or that product, must be honesty, fair dealing and full value for the price.

There is a built-in penalty for every misrepresentation. Advertising an unworthy product or service simply means that a larger number of people will discover its disadvantages all the sooner.

This day, the advertisements will bring you important news of something you want or need and where to buy it . . . news, very often, that you could get in no other way or at the same low cost.

'Hanging Culture' Oysters Not New; MAC Discount Planning Third Store

There is nothing new under the moon, claims Dr. V. L. Loosanoff, senior scientist at the biological laboratory of the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries in Tiburon. And this, he says, applies to the "hanging culture" method of raising oysters now being used by the Johnson Oyster Co. at Drakes Bay and recently mentioned in this column.

Doctor Loosanoff states that the Romans had the same idea 2,000 years ago, and it was used on the coast of France in the year 1235—as well as in Japan, where Charles Johnson's men learned it. Negating Johnson's belief that he was the first to experiment with European oysters in Pacific waters three years ago, Doctor Loosanoff likewise points to shipments of baby oysters he made from his Milford, Conn., laboratories to the state of Washington in 1951.

Johnson apparently began his own commercial planting unaware of it and claims he was never able to get much information on the subject until Doctor Loosanoff's recent personal appearance at Drakes Bay.

Watt

Having stirred up a mild tempest in the oyster beds, we'll now sit back and hope that Johnson's efforts implemented by Doctor Loosanoff's technical knowledge will focus attention on what could become a major development of Marin's natural resources. Doctor Loosanoff will be interviewed tomorrow on Wanda Ramey's noon-time program on Television Station KPIX.

CHARLES M. WATT, president of the MAC Discount Department Stores of San Rafael and Stockton, reports the planning of a third store in Stockton to cover an area of 80,000 square feet. It is expected to be open for business next April. Location will be made in the East Stockton Redevelopment Project.

BUILDING SPECIALIST Thomas Hotchkin and his wife Virginia who is a real estate broker will leave Fairfax soon for Madera where Tom will be connected with the Madera Land Co.—specifically to build the newly introduced "formica house." He has been in Marin construction for about 15 years.

Hamilton Captain Wins Story Contest

Capt. Harry Stoll, air traffic control officer with headquarters, Western Communications Region, at Hamilton Air Force Base, was announced today as winner of $100 first place award in an Air Defense Command short story contest.

Stoll, who lives at 1350 San Jose Boulevard, Novato, won both first and second places in the short story contest at Hamilton, and first place in the Air Force's western hemisphere region. His winning story will be entered in an Air Force-wide contest to be judged at the Pentagon.

Sen. Kuchel Seeks Law Against 'Phony' Mail

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.) called yesterday for legislation to make it illegal to send "phony" mail and telegrams to members of Congress.

Kuchel told the Senate he had received an "avalanche" of telegrams but many persons whose names were signed to the telegrams had denied sending them.

Kuchel said the telegrams and letters were in support of pending legislation which allow freight forwarders to acquire rail, motor and water common carriers.

The letters and telegrams, Kuchel said, had been sent by "unknown individuals or groups" to try to convince him, and possibly other senators, that there was "overwhelming support" for the legislation.

"This is desecration of the democratic process," he said. "It is despicable conduct at best."

Kuchel said the Federal Communications Commission and the Justice Department had told him there is no federal law prohibiting the misuse of a person's name on telegrams to a member of Congress.

A member of Kuchel's staff quoted Post Office Department officials as saying use of an to a legislator was not covered by laws dealing with fraud.

Kuchel noted that the California State Legislature recently passed a law making it a misdemeanor to send a false communication to a newspaper.

County Will Get Higher Interest

A total of $1,036,000 in county money will soon be drawing 3¼ per cent interest as capital improvement fund including savings toward the second stage of the Civic Center and the Veterans Memorial Fund, Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell told county supervisors yesterday.

This will result from impending changes in accounts now aggregating $982,000 drawing 3½ per cent, and reinvestment of this money at the new rate with further accumulation available by Jan. 1 when the higher rate is expected to be available.

Treatment Center Plans Discussed

Two architectural firms were recommended to county supervisors yesterday in a report by Roy A. Ibach, chairman of the Marin County Juvenile Justice Commission, as top candidates for the job of designing a residential treatment center and other facilities at Lucas Valley.

The board deferred decision because of desire to consider other architects, giving special weight to the wish of 12 nearby homeowners to see construction in keeping with the nearby residences.

County construction in this presently one-family area is "a misplaced facility," Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker said in expressing concern that any new building "conform with prevailing architecture."

"Can the treatment center be made to look like a large residence?" asked Supervisor Peter Behr. He was told by Public Works Director Donald R. Frost that "the intention is to make it as residential as possible, as this will not be a detention facility."

Chairman William D. Fusselman pointed out that county facilities had existed in the area long before homes came in, and that the county is not bound to observe zoning regulations. But all concerned manifested desire to accede to wishes of local residents.

Supervisor George Ludy said that while Ibach's commission had done its best in arriving at recommendation of Crawford and Banning of San Rafael and A. Mackenzie Canton of Walnut Creek, people of the area should have opportunity to express their ideas.

Frost promised to get together with residents and the commission within the next week, perhaps arranging for several architects to appear before the supervisors in turn. Ibach said the commission had reviewed credentials of more than 50 architects.

Novato High Plays

The annual play festival at Novato High School will be held at 7 p.m. Nov. 14 and 15 in the old gymnasium, announced Donald Carr, head of the Drama Club. Four one-act plays will be presented.

Restrictions Placed On Bedside Nursing

Restriction of the Marin County Health Department's bedside nursing program was authorized by the board of supervisors yesterday at an indicated $1,865 saving in the department budget.

Action was taken on a basis of report by Health Officer Carolyn B. Albrecht after consultation with state and county officials and Mrs. June Clark and Mrs. Frances Kelly of the private Home Nursing Service in Mill Valley.

Result of the deliberations was a group of recommendations unanimously adopted by the board with certain modifications developed in discussion.

The decision was to provide service only to those unable to pay full cost of hourly home nursing care, and those whose nursing care is paid for by the Veterans' Administration, Welfare Department, or Crippled Children's programs.

Dr. Albrecht asked that her department be authorized to pay time-and-a-half, or $4.50 an hour, to bedside nurses called on occasionally to provide nursing service on weekends and holidays to patients needing essential care seven days a week. But Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said the law does not allow such extra payment.

Restriction to the indicated categories is expected to allow a $1,469 saving on extra hire salaries, the remainder of the anticipated $1,865 saving being made up from employee benefits and mileage.

55 County Jail Inmates Receive Work Furloughs

Fifty-five Marin County Jail inmates received work-furlough privileges during July, August and September and earned an average of $217.30 for a total of $11,951.44, county probation officer Walter H. Busher reported to the board of supervisors yesterday.

Busher said the men worked an average of 9.1 days, "the lowest figure to date and one which reflects a continuing trend toward the assignment of furloughmen to shorter jail sentences."

Money earned was divided among family support, county reimbursement, personal expenses, fines and restitution.

Busher said Orange County has written that it is much pleased with its first year of operation of such a program, and that Marin experience has been drawn on by Tulare County in preparing a work-furlough plan.

Sausalito Citizens Council To Elect Five Directors

The Sausalito Citizens Council will elect five new directors at its annual meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the IDESST Hall on Caledonia Street.

The meeting is for members and invited guests only, said Carl W. Spring, corresponding secretary.

Nominees for directorship to serve two-year terms are Mrs. William A. Austin, Robert L. Green, Eugene M. Huggins, Mrs. Richard F. Phillips, and Fred Summer. All are incumbents save Mrs. Phillips.

Four speakers will discuss school district unification as it would affect Sausalito, Spring said.

Quakes, Nuclear Blast Test Set

LAS VEGAS (UPI) — Project Shoal—an experiment to improve ways of distinguishing earthquakes from underground nuclear explosions — will be conducted Oct. 26 near Fallon, Nev., the Atomic Energy Commission announced yesterday.

Government scientists plan to fire a nuclear device about 1,200-feet underground in granite in an area where natural earthquakes have occurred and are apt to occur again. The force of the explosion will be about the same as that of 12,000 tons of TNT.

The scientists hope to be able to compare what they term the "source effects" from the nuclear explosion with such effects from future earthquakes they say may well occur very near the same place.

Handicapped Help Award To Marinite

Philip Schafer, 265 Rose Avenue, Mill Valley, was awarded a certificate of merit last week by San Francisco Mayor George Christopher for "contributions during the year toward employment of the handicapped."

Schafer is regional representative for the federal vocational rehabilitation office in San Francisco. The award was presented by the mayor's committee at a luncheon in the San Francisco Elks Club.

Cancer Drug Called Useless By 24 Experts

WASHINGTON (AP) — A committee of 24 experts reported unanimously yesterday that the controversial drug Krebiozen is ineffective as a treatment for cancer.

Dr. Kenneth Endicott, director of the National Cancer Institute, said the institute "will not sponsor or participate in a clinical trial" of the drug in view of the committee's findings and other considerations.

In a statement released by the Health and Welfare Department Endicott said:

"The National Cancer Institute has completed its consideration of Krebiozen. There is no justification for a clinical trial, and from a scientific standpoint we regard the case closed."

The special committee was assembled by the institute from predominantly non-government personnel. Its report concerned an evaluation of the records of 504 of 5,000 patients that sponsors of the drug said had been treated over the past decade with beneficial effects in 10 to 70 per cent of the cases.

The 504 case records have been described by a Welfare Department spokesman as the best the Krebiozen sponsors had to offer showing the claimed effectiveness of Krebiozen in cancer.

The evaluation committee's report presented this conclusion:

"On the basis of data reviewed and objective criteria employed to assess antitumor response, it is the unanimous opinion of the review committee that Krebiozen is ineffective as an antitumor agent.

"In a very small number of patients, tumor regressions of varying degrees were seen during Krebiozen treatment. The validity of the majority of these regressions is subject to questions for several different reasons.

"It is the opinion of the committee that the nature, degree, and number of effects noted are what one might expect in any large random sample of cancer patients.

"The committee strongly recommends that no clinical trial Krebiozen be undertaken."

New Three-In-One Polio Vaccine Ready To Be Given Children

VAN DELLEN

Another milestone was passed with the announcement that the live oral poliovirus vaccine now contains protection against all three strains. Two doses are required, eight weeks apart, and immunity reaches its peak in two or three months.

This is in contrast to the older vaccine, which required three doses over a 12-week period. One dose contained Type I, the next Type 2, and the last Type 3. Immunity developed after four months.

The newcomer is administered in a teaspoon or a paper cup. It may be mixed with sirup or milk, or dropped on a lump of sugar or a piece of bread or cake. At present, the manufacturers are recommending a booster series after two or four years. Most of the users will be children but the product is not recommended for infants under six weeks of age.

THE MAIN advantage of the three-in-one oral vaccine is that there is no need to keep track of the separate types of vaccines given each child. This is a problem when millions are immunized over a short span of time.

If anything, the savings in bookkeeping and other administrative costs will make the simpler methods worthwhile. In addition, a single dose of the vaccine should confer some protectioin against all types of polio in communities where the population already possesses a certain degree of immunity.

THE CHIEF objection to any live oral poliovirus vaccine is that the virus may regain its strength during its four-week sojourn in the intestinal tract. In the circumstances, the organism might be transmitted from a vaccinated person to susceptible individuals.

Polio vaccines are paying dividends. There were 3,401 cases during the first 33 weeks of 1959. The number dropped to 481 during the same period in 1961, and to 173 in 1963 Vaccine procedures should be carried on during the winter and spring months (November to May).

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

KIDNEY IMPAIRMENT

R. W. W. writes: How does pyelonephritis affect the kidneys?

REPLY

Many kidney units are destroyed by infection and replaced with scar tissue. In the majority, this condition starts with a urinary tract infection early in life or during pregnacy. It tends to come and go. Unless treatment is instituted, inflammation extends into the kidney itself.

RADIUM FOR CANCER

L. H. writer: I understand it is dangerous to be exposed to radium. If so, why is cancer treated with this substance?

REPLY

Because it kills cancer cells. This disease is far more dangerous that being exposed to radium. The rays are directed toward the malignancy and the rest of the body is protected.

SORE CARTILAGE

VITAMIN SUPPLEMENT

D. E. M. writes: Should a person on an ulcer diet take vitamin C to make up for the lack of fresh fruits and vegetables?

Congressmen Are Called 'Too Timid' On Raises

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Have congressmen been "too timid" in raising their own salaries?

At least one lawmaker thinks so.

Rep. Morris K. Udall (D-Ariz.) said yesterday the time has come for the nation's legislators to stop "downgrading" themselves.

Udall said he knew plenty of congressmen who must dig into their own savings to pay their expenses in Washington when they could be in jobs back home earning "twice as much."

A member of Congress is paid a salary of $22,500 a year. Udall and a Republican cosponsor, Rep. Joel T. Broyhill of Virginia, have introduced legislation which would boost congressional pay to $35,000 a year.

The bill would raise the vice president's salary from $35,000 to $50,000 and the pay of cabinet members from $25,000 to $40,000. Increases also would go to other top federal officials and federal judges.

In addition, the salaries of 2.5 million government workers would be hiked to bring their pay more in line with increases granted in private industry. The annual price tag of all this would amount to 539 million dollars annually.

Two key administration spokesmen, budget director Kermit Gordon and John W. Macy Jr., chairman of the U. S. Civil Service Commission, strongly endorsed the proposed increases. They told the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee that the move was needed to attract outstanding people to federal service.

Gordon said, "We cannot continue to offer salaries which often require incumbents to dig deep into their personal financial resources if, indeed, they are willing to serve at all."

Macy said even the proposed salaries "are probably not as large as they should be to recognize fairly the responsibilities of these national offices today." He said they would still be far below business and industry.

However, the comments drew a cool reaction from some lawmakers. Rep. H. R. Gross (R-Iowa), one of the most religious dollar watchers in the House, wondered aloud when the federal government was ever going to get the budget balanced. Gordon said he hoped it would be in the 1967 fiscal year, if Congress passes the tax reduction bill which is designed to generate more government revenue in the long run.

Gross thought there was some "contradiction" in "reducing taxes and increasing spending."

He also asked but never got an answer to another question as it related to substantial pay increases for top federal officials.

"Is this the same administration that once said, 'Ask not what your country will do for you—ask what you can do for your country?' " Gross said.

At another point in the testimony, Gordon noted that there wasn't much trouble in getting people to serve on the cabinet because of the "public position and prestige" involved.

Barely A Fact, But It Filled His Hotel

SAN MATEO (UPI) — Frank Dennison, new manager of a south San Mateo hotel, turned a slow weekend into a busy one Saturday when he changed the big electric sign to read: "Welcome Nudists Convention."

As the hotel filled with customers, Dennison explained: "The sign isn't wholly misleading. If nudists want to stop and convene, they can."

Carmelite Order Asks For Marin Convent

The Carmelite Order of the Roman Catholic Church wants to set up a convent on one acre at the end of Unionstone Drive in Marinwood.

The Marin County Planning Commission will hold a public hearing next Monday on the application for a permit by the Archbishop of San Francisco.

Preliminary plans show a two-story building with a chapel, living quarters for nuns, administrative offices, and other religious rooms. The Catholic Church owns more than 500 acres of open land in the area to the west and north of Unionstone Drive.

The hearing next Monday will be held in the county planning commission hearing room on the third floor of the Civic Center. The meeting begins at 9 a.m., but this item may come up in the afternoon because it is No. 21 on the agenda.

No. 10 on the agenda is a public hearing to consider an amendment to the Marin City planned community master plan, which would reduce the maximum height of future buildings there to three stories instead of six.

Other matters on the agenda include these:

1. A public hearing on the proposed Harbor Point master plan for the northeast side of Strawberry Point. The area is bounded by a channel south of Salt Works Canal, Harbor Point unit 1, and the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary, and includes Harbor Point Club.

2. A public hearing on 71 apartment units proposed on four and one-half acres in Strawberry. The property fronts on the north side of Ricardo Road at Strawberry Drive.

The can manufacturing industry is the third largest user of steel, exceeded only by the automobile and construction industries.

Warning Issued On Asian Flu

BERKELEY (UPI) — The California State Department of Public Health said yesterday the Western states face a "somewhat greater likelihood" of experiencing Asian flu this winter than other parts of the country.

A spokesman said this was because the West had a low incidence of the infection last season and the disease tends to be a greater problem in areas which were previously spared.

Health officials said certain "high risk" groups should seek vaccination. Among these are heart, lung, kidney patients as well as persons with metabolic disorders, pregnant women and persons over 45, and particularly those over 65.
